

President Has "Lot Of Fun" With Electric "Cow Caller"

By ED CREAGH
The Associated Press
President Eisenhower accepted a gadget-loaded tractor and cultivator, complete with built-in radio and cigarette lighter, today and laughingly declared he has scaled down his agricultural ambitions.

"I'll settle now for being a tractor driver on a farm," he said.

Bubbling over with high spirits, the President enlivened the presentation of the $4,000 tractor-cultivator combination by showing off an electric cow-caller which sent a resounding moo over his pastures and brought the cows coming on the run.

"Look at 'em come!" Eisenhower exclaimed. "They do it every time!"

Gift Of Farm Bureaus
In icily cold weather, the President turned out in a suede jacket, tan tweed trousers and a light grey western style hat, as well as crepe-soled shoes, to receive the tractor and cultivator from Pennsylvania and midwestern farm bureau organizations.

It was a huge red and yellow affair with a stand-up aerial leading to a long-and-short-wave radio on the left of the driver's seat and an electric cigarette lighter within easy reach.

"Golly!" was the President's happy reaction. He said that when the machine was unloaded last night somebody remarked: "They're making these tractors as pretty as station wagons nowadays."

"Now I see what he meant," Eisenhower added.

Pleased With Radio
"A radio! We ought to have Ivan out here to hear the durned thing play."

He referred to Ivan Feaster, who runs the farm for him.

Strolling around the tractor in the midst of a crowd of newsmen, photographers and representatives of the tractor manufacturing company and farm organizations, the President said he was going to "ask my doctor how soon I can get on this thing."

He looked as ruddy and fit as ever, and ready to hop up into the driver's seat at the drop of a hint.

Eisenhower spent about half an hour chatting with the group and showing off his livestock and equipment. He stole the show with his cow-calling performance.

By TOM HOGG
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Nationalist China's threat to veto Outer Mongolia's application for U. N. membership—a move that could kill present chances of 17 other applicant nations—aroused growing resentment in U. N. circles today.

There was speculation Formosa's own foothold in the international organization might be loosened as a result.

Though Russia promised 13 vetoes of all non-Communist applicants—unless Outer Mongolia and the other four Red candidates made the grade, the Chinese and not the Soviets were the villains to most sources who would comment.

Angry diplomats predicted that the "Nationalists" decision, reportedly made despite two appeals from President Eisenhower, would cost the Formosa government many friends it might need when the perennial question of seating Red China comes up in the next Assembly.

One delegate said if the Nationalist Chinese wanted to commit suicide in the U. N., they were going about it in the right way.

Sources close to Chiang Kai-shek's representatives said they risked a storm in the U. N. because they felt they had to oppose Outer Mongolia as a Red satellite and a companion of Peking. The disputed state, on the borders of Soviet Asia and Red China, was ruled loosely by China from 1891 to 1911.

The U. S. delegation, one of the Nationalists' staunchest supporters here, voiced open concern over the Chiang government's decision.

The membership question is slated to come up in the Assembly's Special Political Committee late this week.

"Look At Those Cows Coming"

Shouted President Eisenhower to reporters and photographers at his farm this morning when he demonstrated a new electric cow-calling gadget which had been attached to the motor cart which he uses to ride around his place. His driver willingly sounded the cow-calling gadget time and again as the President acclaimed the new piece.

TEETER TELLS WHY HE FILED CONTEST PAPER

Atty. Daniel E. Teeter, in filing petitions contesting the election of three Republican candidates in the November elections, gave the following explanation for doing so:

"In filing these election contest petitions for the interested parties, I would like to state the reasons therefor. Most people do not realize that election contest petitions must be filed in order to change the certifications as to the already declared successful candidates.

"The election code law allows four months from the election to petition for the opening of any ballot boxes, but it also provides that after the county election board has completed its official count and has certified the vote and declared who are the winning candidates, the only method to legally change that declared result is by the institution of an election contest, which petitions must allege grounds for the contest.

"The same law provides that an (Continued On Page 6)

Check the weather — The weather was rainy, snowy or foggy in 1 out of 3 fatal accidents. This time of the year road and visibility conditions are at their worst.

Check the time — December is a dark dreary month and night driving is considerably more hazardous than day driving. So, when possible, plan to travel during the hours of daylight. And double your care, reduce your speed at night.

Check your manners — Failure to yield the right of way, failure to keep to the right of the center line and other examples of poor manners on the highway ranked high among driver violations in fatal accidents. Take your turn—you'll probably get there just as fast.

Check your speed — More than 3 out of 10 drivers in fatal accidents were violating speed laws. Speed law violation was almost twice as high on rural highways than in urban communities.

Check your drinking — In 24 out of 100 fatal accidents a driver or an adult pedestrian had been drinking.

Check your car — Among vehicles involved in fatal accidents for which condition of vehicle was reported, about 6 per cent had unsafe conditions.

Check yourself — About 1 out of 14 drivers involved in fatal accidents had a physical condition that could have been a contributing factor in the accident. In the majority of these cases the condition was fatigue or sleepiness.

URGES CODE OF SELF-RESTRAINT IN '56 CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) said today if Republicans expect Democrats "to refrain from using foreign policy as a political football, we have got to make sure that we Republicans don't kick it around ourselves."

The deadlock at the Geneva foreign ministers' conference, from which Secretary of State Dulles returned 12 days ago, has prompted numerous top Democrats to lash out at his handling of foreign policy.

Wiley proposed in a statement that both political parties adopt a "code of self-restraint" in 1956 campaign discussion of international affairs. His statement was given to newsmen for later release before Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler offered the Republicans a conditional "truce" on the issue.

Trade Word "Peace" Butler said in a statement yesterday Democrats would agree to keep partisanship out of foreign policy discussion if President Eisenhower would order the GOP to drop the word "peace" from next year's campaign slogans.

At the same time, Butler referred to what he called "reckless and slanderous attacks" by the Republicans in 1953 on former President Harry S. Truman and former Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Wiley said it is regrettable that some Democrats "have given strong indications that foreign policy may become a political football."

Danger Is Cited "I am hoping," he said, "that the Democratic candidates as well as other Democratic leaders who have in the past shown commendable leadership in striving for non-partisan foreign policy will see the danger of this trend toward partisan tactics on this all-important issue."

Calling in turn for Republican restraint, he added:

"If Republicans are to conduct reckless personal attacks, that will only invite Democratic retaliation and the vicious circle will go on and on."

COURT ORDERS NEW INJUNCTION

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvania's Supreme Court Monday reversed a decision of a Delaware County judge and ordered reissuance of an injunction which restrained mass picketing at the strike-bound plant of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. in suburban Lester.

The 6,000 Westinghouse workers, members of Local 107, independent United Electrical Workers Union, struck Oct. 16 for wage increases and other benefits. The high tribunal's ruling, a 5-1 decision, struck down a decision of President Judge Henry G. Sweney of Delaware County Common Pleas Court in which he had granted limiting the number of pickets in front of the plant's gates.

Judge Sweney had issued the injunction Oct. 19, but dissolved it nine days later after two days of hearings in which he said there was no picketing violence as charged by the company and thus no need for the injunction.

The new injunction will become effective as soon as the company files a $25,000 bond with the Delaware County prothonotary.

Justice Allen M. Stearns wrote the majority opinion, while Justice Michael A. Musmanno dissented.

RAILS, STEELS ADVANCE

NEW YORK (AP) — Rails and steels went ahead as the stock market moved higher in early trading Monday.

Gains ran from fractions to a point or better in fairly active trading. Among opening blocks, Sperry Rand was up 1/2 at 24 1/2, on 10,000 shares and later extended this gain. Pennsylvania Railroad was up 3/4 at 27 on 10,000 shares. U. S. Steel also improved its opening price of 58 1/2, up 3/4 on 5,000 shares.

that the conduct of foreign policy should be above narrow partisanship." But he said that if the Republicans "continued to make the question of peace and foreign policy an issue, we would have no alternative but to take up the challenge."

The 49th annual invitation track meet sponsored by the Millrose A. A. will be held in Madison Square Garden on Saturday, Feb. 4.

R. J. MILLER WINS FINAL GRID CONTEST

Richard J. Miller, 41 Railroad St., won the final of the annual weekly football contests sponsored by The Gettysburg Times and 20 cooperating merchants by correctly naming 16 winners.

Eighteen participants listed 15 winners but the point total forecast of the feature game decided the second and third prize winners. The feature game total was 40, Baltimore defeating San Francisco 26-14.

Joe Howard, 1016 Columbia Rd., Hagerstown, listed 39 as the feature game total to take the second prize.

Third prizes goes to Samuel A. Noel Jr., 80 Steinwehr Ave., whose point total was 42.

There were 171 entries in last week's contest.

Selections were made as follows: One, 16 correct; 18, 15; 24, 14; 38, 13; 32, 12; 29, 11; 13, 10; eight, nine; seven, eight; one, seven.

SPECIAL BOOK PROGRAM OVER WGCT MONDAY

"Children's Books For Christmas Giving" will be discussed Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock over WGCT as part of the series of programs being presented by the local unit of the American Association of University Women.

Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, librarian, and Mrs. Marjorie Hinkle, a member of her staff, will conduct the discussion. The program is a departure from the regular "Book Parade" of book reviews presented over WGCT each Monday at 1 p.m. by the AAUW.

Mrs. Kenneth Smoke, chairman of the AAUW radio programs for December, has announced that the remainder of the programs to be given by other members will follow the usual pattern of book reviews on Mondays and "The American Story" series on Thursdays.

The program for "The American Story" series includes, "The Battle for North America" by Mrs. Althea Rebert, December 1; "Benjamin Franklin, by Mrs. J. Walter Coleman, December 8; "Apostles of Freedom: Sam Adams and Tom Paine" by Mrs. Franklin D. Bigham, December 15; "George Washington" by Mrs. Paul W. Grave, December 22, and "Thomas Jefferson" by Mrs. Donald Sheely, December 29.

In the "Book Parade" series, following the special broadcast on December 5, "Jules Verne: His Work" will be given by Mrs. D. E. Horst on December 12; "1,000,000 Delinquents" by Benjamin Fine will be reviewed by Mrs. Raymond Hale, December 19, and "The Beat-est Boy" by Jesse Stuart will be reviewed by Mrs. Russell G. Hall on December 26.

CLUB RECEIVES THANK YOU FROM "FIRST LADY"

A gilt framed letter of thanks from Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower was displayed to members of the Gettysburg Exchange Club by President John J. Slents at the regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in Banker's Restaurant.

The letter follows:

Gettysburg, November 17, 1955

Dear Friends,

Thank you for your very kind thought in having such a beautiful bouquet of red roses to bid us welcome to our home on Monday.

The President and I were delighted to have your lovely gift and were deeply touched to have you remember us in this special way.

With our best wishes to all of the members of the Exchange Club of Gettysburg.

Mamie Doud Eisenhower

The roses, in an antique vase, were placed in the Eisenhower farm home for President and Mrs. Eisenhower's return here November 14.

The meeting was opened with the pledge to the flag.

The annual ladies' night will be held December 13 at Graeffenburg Inn. A dollar per year dues were voted for membership in the Adams County Home Auxiliary and Mrs. Cletus Mayer was announced as the 1956 representative of the club to the auxiliary. $2.50 was voted to fulfill the request for funds presented by the Adams County Safe Driving Day chairman, Dr. Delroy Keller.

A lengthy discussion was held on the Builders' Show to be held in March. Dave Garfinkle and Alexis Christman were appointed co-chairmen of a bowling program to be set up for Tuesday nights. Thomas Brenner was awarded $3 accumulated in the weekly drawing.

CB MEETS THURSDAY

A meeting of the Credit Bureau of Adams County will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the bureau's office in the Plaza Building. President Robert Codori said signatures of members are needed in connection with the joining of Credit Bureau Reports, Inc., of New York City, and for the election of a vice president.

Mrs. Roy W. Gifford and Mrs. Bruce N. Wolff were hostesses this afternoon at a bridge-luncheon for 82 women at the Hotel Gettysburg. The tables were decorated with mixed fall flowers.

Mrs. Charles W. Stock, E. Broadway, spent the weekend with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Fremont Hall, and children, Phoenixville.

left several days ago for St. Petersburg, Fla., where she will spend the winter months.

Mrs. Charles H. Huber, Carlisle St., spent the holidays in Glenside, Pa., with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Welch.

The Seventh Grade Y-Teen group met Monday afternoon at the YWCA to make Christmas corsages for hanging of the greens ceremony to be held Sunday afternoon at the Y at 3:30 o'clock.

Work was begun on Christmas gifts for their mothers by members of Brownie Troop 25 Tuesday afternoon in the cafeteria of St. Francis Xavier School. The girls made ornaments to be placed on the Christmas tree at the Brownie party to be held in December.

Mrs. Charles Dick, leader, asked the girls to bring their registration slips to next meeting. She was assisted by Mrs. Clyde Topper. There were 23 Brownies present.

President Has

tached to the President's midge-type green car with a fringe-edged top which he uses to ride about the farm with Dick Flohr, his Secret Service driver, at the wheel.

At Eisenhower's direction, Flohr sounded the horn furiously, making it below out a blast of "moos." But the strange vehicle was too far away for the bulls to hear.

Some Cows Get Lazy

"Dick, drive down there about the fence," the President said. "You are going to see something if those cows act like they usually do."

It took the driver a few minutes to maneuver the car around to the road. But when he did, the mechanically contrived "moos" brought the cows a running.

The President was almost beside himself with delight.

"Did you ever see anything like it?" he asked his guests.

Some one wanted to know when the bulls would get wise. The President didn't believe they ever would. "In the last couple of days, we've done it a half a dozen times," Eisenhower said. "Of course, some of them get lazy."

What was it called?

"You call it a cow caller, I think," the President said.

A little talk of presentation went with the tractor-cultivator presentation.

Harold P. Jordan of the Indiana Farm Bureau Cooperative Assn., told the Chief Executive the gift was made "because of your active interest in your own farm and in the problems of agriculture."

"I'm Feeling Fine"

Ohio and Pennsylvania Farm Bureau Coops joined in making the presentation. The tractor is a Black Hawk, made by the Black Hawk-Cockshutt Farm Equipment Co. of Bellevue, Ohio.

When Jordan voiced good wishes for his continued recovery, the President replied: "I'm feeling fine."

He added that he'd just had a complete going-over by his doctors — who, a short time later, said his recovery from his heart attack continues satisfactory and that the President "on progressively increased but restricted activities remains free of symptoms."

Weight Is Maintained

White House news secretary James C. Hagerty said the President's weight is being maintained at about 172 pounds as compared with 176 he weighed at the time of his heart attack Sept. 24.

By the diet adjustment, Hagerty said the doctors mean to keep the President's caloric intake at around 1,800 a day, decreasing and increasing it from day to day—depending on his activities—to keep the weight at the 172-pound level.

Hagerty said the doctors wanted it clear that there still are restrictions on Eisenhower's activities — that he "hasn't got complete freedom."

He still must have his regular rest period after lunch, and there can be "no golf" and a lot of "other things," Hagerty explained.

Going To Walter Reed

This morning's examinations lasted about 45 minutes. They are the last over-all examinations by Col. Mattingly and Gen. Snyder until Eisenhower goes to Walter Reed Hospital Dec. 10 for X-ray and fluoroscope tests.

The President will leave Gettysburg that day around 12:30 p.m. with a view of entering Walter Reed about 2:15 or 2:30 o'clock. After the examinations, he will go to the White House to spend the next few days. Hagerty said he will have a medical bulletin for release at the White House the afternoon of Dec. 10.

OFFICERS ARE NOMINATED BY CASHTOWN UNIT

The following nominations were announced at a meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Cashtown Community Fire Company Monday evening in the community hall: Vice president, Mrs. Edna Kuhn and Mrs. George Bowling; secretary, Mrs. Gladys Rebert; treasurer, Mrs. Kermit Deardorff and Mrs. Crowell Bucher; chaplain, Miss Inez Ritzgeal and Mrs. Grace Cole. Mrs. Morgan reported for the committee in the absence of Mrs. Paul Martz.

President Vi Deardorff read a poem entitled "Blessing." Mrs. LeRoy Kint conducted devotions in the absence of the chaplain. Mrs. Kermit Deardorff read an article entitled "Prayer and Potatoes." Mrs. Glenn Keller played the piano for group singing. Mrs. Morgan reported for the sunshine committee and Alma Fritz reported on the last meeting of the Adams County Home Auxiliary. The ways and means committee chairman, Mrs. Bruce Wetzel, submitted a report. She spoke on "Ten Ways in Which to Kill an Organization." Mrs. Gladys V. Rebert sang a solo, "Somebody Bigger Than You and I."

Refreshments were served by the following hostesses: Mrs. Deardorff, Mrs. Hilda Diehl, Mrs. Elizabeth Dillson, Mrs. Frank Dillson, Mrs. Hankey, Mrs. Brewbaker and Mrs. Baldwin.

Officers will be elected at the next meeting, Monday evening, December 26, at 7:30 o'clock. A Christmas party will be held with an exchange of 50-cent gifts.

The meeting closed with a copperware demonstration by Evelyn Wantz, Taneytown. There were 50 members in attendance.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Aspers, Bendersville, and Wensville Lutheran Parish will attend the Christmas tea of the Missionary Societies of Trinity Lutheran Church, Arendtsville, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Members desiring transportation are asked to contact Mrs. John Pitzer.

Mrs. George Peters and son, Robert, Bendersville, spent the weekend in Philadelphia visiting the former's daughter, Mrs. Mildred Shields, and son.

Mrs. E. Da'e Heiges, Biglerville, has returned home after spending the Thanksgiving holidays with her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Heiges and family, Chevy Chase, Md. She was accompanied home Tuesday by Mrs. Harold Heiges and son, Robert.

The Tri-Hi-Y of Biglerville High School held its induction service Monday evening at the high school. Those inducted were Patty Bucher, Darlene Winand, Nancy Ditzler, Donna Slaybaugh, Joan Heller, and Jean Heller. The guest speaker was Ted Townsend, district representative from the YMCA. A social hour followed and refreshments were served. There were 25 girls and their advisor, Mrs. Harold Steiner, present.

The Young People's Group of Flohr's Lutheran Church, McKnightstown, will meet at the church at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

The Senior Choir of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Biglerville, will rehearse at the church at 7 o'clock Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Steiner and sons, John, Paul and Dean, Flora Dale, have returned home after spending the Thanksgiving vacation with Mrs. Steiner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wilson, New Philadelphia.

The Thank-Offering service, sponsored by the Women's Society of World Service, was held at Mount Tabor EUB Church Sunday. Mrs. E. W. Yienst was the leader. Special music was provided by the Mount Tabor Ladies Trio, composed of Mrs. Janet Bowman, Miss Darlene Fetters and Miss Doris Rose, with Miss Ileana Rex at the piano. Music was also furnished by the Mount Tabor Church choir. Guest teacher in the Adult Department was Harry Funt, Biglerville. The thank offering amounted to $87.10. Any members of the Society who were not present are requested to mail their thank-offering to Mrs. Ray Crum, Gardner, R. 2, on or before the middle of December.

The Rev. Eugene R. Steiner administered the Sacrament of Baptism to the following children during the regular worship service at Bendersville Methodist Church Sunday: Linda Carol Southerly, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Southerly, Bendersville; Janet Marie and Phyllis Jean Orner, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Orner, Bendersville.

Mrs. R. B. Johnson and daughter, Sandra, Pittsburg, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with the former's mother, Mrs. Neoma Carey, Biglerville.

Russell J. Baker shot a four-point, 125-pound buck near his home at Mt. Hope Monday morning at 7:25 o'clock. It was his first deer.

Ronald Heiges, South St., shot a three-point, 125-pound deer in Potter County on Monday at 8 a.m.

Dale Sair, Fairfield R. 2, shot a six-point, 140-pound buck while hunting Tuesday on the Guy Gordon farm off the Emmitsburg Road.

Mervin I. Rice, Bendersville, jury commissioner of Adams County, is serving as a grand juror in the U. S. Court at Harrisburg this week. He is a guest of his sister, Naomi Guise, at Lemoyne.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rowe Martin, Biglerville, were the former's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Martin, Chambersburg.

The Adams County 4-H Wildlife and Conservation Club will meet at Biglerville High School Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Young People of Christ Lutheran Church, Aspers, will hold practice for the Christmas program at 7 o'clock Thursday evening at the church. The play will be held on the evening of December 18.

The Ambassador Sunday School Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Biglerville, will hold a turkey dinner at the Zion Reformed Church, Arendtsville, Thursday evening, December 15, at 6 o'clock. This will be followed by a carol sing for those wishing to participate. Exchange of 50c gifts will take place at the dinner. Members of the class are requested to advise one of the following committee members whether they will attend the dinner and carol sing: Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lady, or Mr. and Mrs. John Leeti.

A petition by three Democrats for a recount in the Third Ward was challenged Tuesday evening when Attorney Donald G. Oyler, Republican counsel for the recount, claimed that one of the three signers of the petition was not a registered voter. Clarence C. Smith, chief clerk to the election board, was called to the stand to state that Gertrude M. Butt, one of the signers of the petition, was not registered as a voter. That petition was voided.

This morning, however, Attorney Daniel E. Teeter presented a new petition signed by other Third Ward voters and Judge Thomas P. Lansberry, specially assigned for the recount, allowed the petition. The recount of the Third Ward votes began this afternoon.

The recount has been completed in the following 11 districts: Arendtsville, Berwick, Biglerville, Butler, Cumberland, Franklin, Freedom, Gettysburg Second Ward, Latimore, Liberty and Straban.

Still to be counted this afternoon was the contest for supervisor in Straban and Third Ward, to complete the recounts asked by the Democrats.

Republicans had asked a recount also in Conewago Twp. and Mt. Pleasant Twp. No. 3. County Republican Chairman John H. Baschore told the court this afternoon that the Republicans did not plan to withdraw their petitions but wished to have the two districts recounted. The response was in answer to a question of whether the Republicans wished to withdraw their petitions because the count so far had shown no major change.

Feature Several Models

The 1956 Hudson passenger car line includes a custom four-door sedan and two-door Hollywood hardtop in the Hornet V-8 series; a super and custom four-door and custom two-door Hollywood hardtop in the Hornet "Six" series; and a four-door sedan in the Wasp series.

Prominent styling feature of the 1956 Hudson line is the new V-shaped grille highlighted by a modern inner mesh pattern. The die-cast grille, integrated with new chrome headlight rings, lends a firm, taut look to the smooth flowing lines of the overall car.

The new combined parking light and turn signal assembly is blended gracefully with the V-line pattern of the grille for easy visibility from front and side.

New Hudson Medallion

A new Hudson medallion is set in the V-shape "break" of the upper portion of the grille, with the Hudson name prominently displayed on the leading edge of the hood.

The side panels of the 1956 Hornet and Wasp models continue the V-line styling theme with a new chrome moulding highlighted by a "V" break. A new gold color panel highlights all custom models. The rear view of the 1956 Hudson models has a completely new look. The new tail-lights, elliptical in shape, blend into the fender with new chrome fins. A new rear deck ornament, handle and key lock round out its new appearance.

All Hudson models utilize the new squeeze-type safety door handles, eliminating hazardous protrusions. The V-line interiors of the 1956 Hornet and Wasp models are completely new, featuring a new dash panel and new harmonizing selections of interior colors.

have 40,000 deaths on the highways of the United States this year is because we the people of the United States simply do not care to prevent it.

"As parents we worry about the safety of our sons when they go into the armed forces. But I tell parents their children are safer in the army than they are at home. Even at the height of war fever Americans were killed by enemy bullets than were killed by automobiles. As a nation we were horrified when 88 persons were killed in an airplane crash. But nobody seemed to care that 126 persons were killed by automobiles at the same time."

R. Delroy Keller, county S-D day chairman, reported that so far during the campaign there have been seven accidents in which ten were injured and one killed.

President Ernest Krape presided at the dinner meeting. Burgess William G. Weaver in accepting the certificate on behalf of the community said, "The credit belongs to the police force and I am turning this over to Chief Jack Bartlett and his men as a token of the state's appreciation of the work they have been doing, and are doing."

Chief Bartlett, accepting the certificate from Weaver, said, "It was the work of the force, of all the men and I plan to place it in the police office that we all may take pleasure in the record that was accomplished through the work of the men."

tured and taken back to India but we convinced the Indian officials that we were U. S. officers and so escaped to Tibet again. But we were again denied entrance to the country. Five times we crossed the mountains between India and Tibet before we finally succeeded in remaining in the country.

"Some of the passes we crossed were as high as 20,000 feet. When we crossed the Tibetan plains the people thought we were foolish for no Tibetan goes there in the winter when the temperature never gets above 40 degrees below zero. The people told us of the robbers we would encounter, but we took their advice lightly until we stumbled right into one of the robbers' camps. We were threatened with death but how we escaped is a story too long to tell."

Wheels, Roads Scarce

One of the pictures Harrer showed was a prayer wheel in one of the temples. "This was the only type of wheel in existence in Tibet until an automobile was carried piece by piece over the mountains for the use of the Dalai Lama. A three mile road in the capital city is the only road in existence in Tibet."

Some of Harrer's pictures were of tombs with solid gold roofs and women's jewelry worth up to $10,000. "I had a happy, wonderful time in Tibet and thought of never leaving," Harrer said. He left Tibet when the Dalai Lama fled into exile before the Chinese Reds. Since then the Dalai Lama has returned. "I believe the Dalai Lama and the Tibetan people will survive the Reds as they have survived every Chinese invasion," Harrer said.

In that light, the medallion is a token of America's enduring gratitude. But more than that, it sharpens in our minds today the eternal faith that the forces of evil cannot triumph over men whose courage is many times fortified by dedication to human freedom, to human rights, to the God-guided destiny of free men.

Warm sentiment is mingled with gratitude as I send this medallion, provided by American friends of yours, to commemorate your birthday. Millions of my countrymen join me in tribute to you on this anniversary and in best wishes for long and happy years ahead.

With warm regard,

As ever,

/s/ Dwight D. Eisenhower
The Right Honorable
Sir Winston Churchill
K.G., O.M., C.H.

"Chartwell"
Westerham, Kent, England
The inscription on the reverse side reads as follows:

"Presented to

Sir Winston Spencer Churchill by President Dwight D. Eisenhower on behalf of his millions of admiring friends in the United States" (Clasped hands, flanked by the British and United States shields). "For Courageous Leadership and Recognition of His Signal Services To the Defense of Freedom, in Which Cause His Country and the United States Have Been Associated In Both Peace and War"

It all had been a secret kept from Churchill until the presentation of the three-inch medallion by Ambassador Aldrich at 10 o'clock this morning.

Eisenhower was so determined to surprise his old friend and comrade at arms that he authorized his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, to "brief" White House correspondents here a day in advance and ask them to keep it under their hats overnight.

This was to prevent any accidental leak. Eisenhower employed the same technique many a time, under graver circumstances, when he commanded Allied troops in the war which made him and Churchill friends and allies.

La Prensa Is Returned To Its Owners In S. A.

BUENOS AIRES (P)—The government today issued a decree restoring the newspaper La Prensa to the Paz family. At the same time it ordered dissolution of the Peronista party.

The decree of provisional President Pedro Aramburu spelled a finish to the totalitarian political machine which Juan D. Peron organized six years ago to smother the opposition and tighten his reign.

Expropriation of La Prensa in 1951 was one of the steps Peron took to clamp his control on the nation.

Jet Plane

porter was working alone in apartment G of Building 725 when the crash occurred.

Porter said he heard the plane coming "and the whole building was vibrating."

The next thing he knew, a sheet of flame broke the wall in the second floor apartment in which he was working.

Blown Out Window

"It was suicide to go down the stairs," he said, so he ran to the window and opened it. As he was kicking out the window sash, an explosion blew him out the window to the ground below.

Porter said when he reached the window, all he could see was flames through the courtyard and people being killed. Four died in the next door apartment.

He was uninjured except for numerous bruises.

The tremendous impact sent apartment fuel tanks hurtling through the air, feeding the fires which had broken out in all the buildings.

Burst Like Bombs

Pamela Harris, 21-year-old Eielson resident who had just alighted from a bus a short distance away, said the oil tanks burst like bombs and she saw the flames engulf one group of schoolchildren coming home for lunch. She never learned what happened to them.

The triplet sons of Sgt. and Mrs. William Thimble were killed in an upstairs room in the first building struck.

Thimble, formerly of Ellwood City, Pa., was found kneeling in debris in the courtyard, badly burned and with his shirt blown off. Mrs. Thimble was standing nearby, screaming. A witness said the father was holding his older sons, Dutchie, 18 months, and Timmie, 3, and shouting: "My other boys, my other boys."

Experiments have shown that hogs gain weight faster, specially during hot weather, if given night lights.

Feature Several Models

The 1956 Hudson passenger car line includes a custom four-door sedan and two-door Hollywood hardtop in the Hornet V-8 series; a super and custom four-door and custom two-door Hollywood hardtop in the Hornet "Six" series; and a four-door sedan in the Wasp series.

Prominent styling feature of the 1956 Hudson line is the new V-shaped grille highlighted by a modern inner mesh pattern. The die-cast grille, integrated with new chrome headlight rings, lends a firm, taut look to the smooth flowing lines of the overall car.

The new combined parking light and turn signal assembly is blended gracefully with the V-line pattern of the grille for easy visibility from front and side.

New Hudson Medallion

A new Hudson medallion is set in the V-shape "break" of the upper portion of the grille, with the Hudson name prominently displayed on the leading edge of the hood.

The side panels of the 1956 Hornet and Wasp models continue the V-line styling theme with a new chrome moulding highlighted by a "V" break. A new gold color panel highlights all custom models. The rear view of the 1956 Hudson models has a completely new look. The new tail-lights, elliptical in shape, blend into the fender with new chrome fins. A new rear deck ornament, handle and key round out its new appearance.

The V-line interiors of the 1956 Hornet and Wasp models are completely new, featuring a new dash panel and new harmonizing selections of interior colors.

have 40,000 deaths on the highways of the United States this year is because we the people of the United States simply do not care to prevent it.

"As parents we worry about the safety of our sons when they go into the armed forces. But I tell parents their children are safer in the army than they are at home. Even at the height of war fewer Americans were killed by enemy bullets than were killed by automobiles. As a nation we were horrified when 88 persons were killed in an airplane crash. But nobody seemed to care that 126 persons were killed by automobiles at the same time."

R. Delroy Keller, county S-D day chairman, reported that so far during the campaign there have been seven accidents in which ten were injured and one killed.

President Ernest Kriape presided at the dinner meeting. Burgess William G. Weaver in accepting the certificate on behalf of the community said, "The credit belongs to the police force and I am turning this over to Chief Jack Bartlett and his men as a token of the state's appreciation of the work they have been doing, and are doing."

Chief Bartlett, accepting the certificate from Weaver, said, "It was the work of the force, of all the men and I plan to place it in the police office that we all may take pleasure in the record that was accomplished through the work of the men."

tured and taken back to India but we convinced the Indian officials that we were U. S. officers and so escaped to Tibet again. But we were again denied entrance to the country. Five times we crossed the mountains between India and Tibet before we finally succeeded in remaining in the country.

"Some of the passes we crossed were as high as 20,000 feet. When we crossed the Tibetan plains the people thought we were foolish for no Tibetan goes there in the winter when the temperature never gets above 40 degrees below zero. The people told us of the robbers we would encounter, but we took their advice lightly until we stumbled right into one of the robbers' camps. We were threatened with death but how we escaped is a story too long to tell."

Wheels, Roads Scarce

One of the pictures Harrer showed was a prayer wheel in one of the temples. "This was the only type of wheel in existence in Tibet until an automobile was carried piece by piece over the mountains for the use of the Dalai Lama. A three mile road in the capital city is the only road in existence in Tibet."

Some of Harrer's pictures were of tombs with solid gold roofs and women's jewelry worth up to $10,000. "I had a happy, wonderful time in Tibet and thought of never leaving," Harrer said. He left Tibet when the Dalai Lama fled into exile before the Chinese Reds.

Since then the Dalai Lama has returned. "I believe the Dalai Lama and the Tibetan people will survive the Reds as they have survived every Chinese invasion," Harrer said.

In that light, the medallion is a token of America's enduring gratitude. But more than that, it sharpens in our minds today the eternal faith that the forces of evil cannot triumph over men whose courage is many times fortified by dedication to human freedom, to human rights, to the God-guided destiny of free men.

Warm sentiment is mingled with gratitude as I send this medallion, provided by American friends of yours, to commemorate your birthday. Millions of my countrymen join me in tribute to you on this anniversary and in best wishes for long and happy years ahead.

With warm regard,

As ever,

Dwight D. Eisenhower

The inscription on the reverse side reads as follows:

"Presented to
Sir Winston Spencer Churchill

President Dwight D. Eisenhower on behalf of his millions of admiring friends in the United States"

(Clasped hands, flanked by the British and United States shields)

"For Courageous Leadership and In Recognition of His Signal Services To the Defense of Freedom, in Which Cause His Country and the United States Have Been Associated"

In Both Peace and War"

It all had been a secret kept from Churchill until the presentation of the three-inch medallion by Ambassador Aldrich at 10 o'clock this morning.

Eisenhower was so determined to surprise his old friend and comrade at arms that he authorized his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, to "brief" White House correspondents here a day in advance and ask them to keep it under their hats overnight.

This was to prevent any accidental leak. Eisenhower employed the same technique many a time, under graver circumstances, when he commanded Allied troops in the war which made him and Churchill friends and allies.

La Prensa Is Returned To Its Owners In S. A.

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The government today issued a decree restoring the newspaper La Prensa to the Paz family. At the same time it ordered dissolution of the Peronista party.

The decree of provisional President Pedro Aramburu spelled a finish to the totalitarian political machine which Juan D. Peron organized six years ago to smother the opposition and tighten his reign.

Expropriation of La Prensa in 1951 was one of the steps Peron took to clamp his control on the nation.

Six Catholic Teams Join New League

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Formation of a new six-team Eastern Pennsylvania Class A Catholic High School league for all sports was announced today. The league will start operation with next season's football season.

Included in the league are St. John's High School, Manayunk; St. Mathew's, Conshohocken; Bishop Kenrick, Norristown; Pottsville Catholic; Reading Central Catholic and Allentown Central Catholic.

The Rev. Joseph J. Fricker, Reading Central Catholic, was elected president and the Rev. Richard J. Loeper, Allentown Central Catholic, secretary and treasurer.

CHURCHILL CELEBRATES

LONDON (AP)—Britain's great man of the 20th century, Sir Winston Churchill, is 81 today.

By his own wish, a quiet celebration was planned with the chief event a birthday luncheon for 12 at his London home hard by the grounds of Buckingham Palace.

Jet Plane

penter was working alone in apartment G of Building 725 when the crash occurred.

Porter said he heard the plane coming "and the whole building was vibrating."

The next thing he knew, a sheet of flame broke the wall in the second floor apartment in which he was working.

Blown Out Window

"It was suicide to go down the stairs," he said, so he ran to the window and opened it. As he was kicking out the window sash, an explosion blew him out the window to the ground below.

Porter said when he reached the window, all he could see was flames through the courtyard and people being killed. Four died in the next door apartment.

He was uninjured except for numerous bruises.

Burst Like Bombs

Pamela Harris, 21-year-old Eielson resident who had just alighted from a bus a short distance away, said the oil tanks burst like bombs and she saw the flames engulf one group of schoolchildren coming home for lunch. She never learned what happened to them.

The triplet sons of Sgt. and Mrs. William Thimble were killed in an upstairs room in the first building struck.

Thimble, formerly of Ellwood City, Pa., was found kneeling in debris in the courtyard, badly burned and with his shirt blown off. Mrs. Thimble was standing nearby, screaming. A witness said the father was holding his older sons, Dutchie, 18 months, and Timmie, 3, and shouting: "My other boys, my other boys."

CLUB RECEIVES THANK YOU FROM "FIRST LADY"

A gift framed letter of thanks from Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower was displayed to members of the Gettysburg Exchange Club by President John J. Slentz at the regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in Banker's Restaurant.

The letter follows:

Gettysburg
November 17, 1955

Dear Friends,

Thank you for your very kind thought in having such a beautiful bouquet of red roses to bid us welcome to our home on Monday. The President and I were delighted to have your lovely gift and were deeply touched to have you remember us in this special way.

With our best wishes to all of the members of the Exchange Club of Gettysburg.

Mamie Doud Eisenhower

The roses, in an antique vase, were placed in the Eisenhower farm home for President and Mrs. Eisenhower's return here November 14.

The meeting was opened with the pledge to the flag.

She spoke on "Ten Ways in Which to Kill an Organization." Mrs. Gladys V. Rebert sang a solo, "Somebody Bigger Than You and I."

Refreshments were served by the following hostesses: Mrs. Deardorff, Mrs. Hilda Dietl, Mrs. Elizabeth Dillson, Mrs. Frank Dillon, Mrs. Hankey, Mrs. Brewbaker and Mrs. Baldwin.

Officers will be elected at the next meeting, Monday evening, December 26, at 7:30 o'clock. A Christmas party will be held with an exchange of 50-cent gifts.

The meeting closed with a copperware demonstration by Evelyn Wanz, Taneytown. There were 50 members in attendance.

PRESIDENT'S CONVALESCENCE SATISFACTORY

President Eisenhower's physicians reported after an examination today that he is "free of symptoms" and that his convalescence "continues to be satisfactory without complications."

Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, heart specialist of Walter Reed army hospital, Washington, joined Major General Howard M. Snyder, the president's personal physician, in a medical bulletin which made clear Eisenhower's activities still are being restricted even as they are progressively increased.

The bulletin said:

"The President's convalescence continues to be satisfactory without complications. The President, on progressively increased but restricted activities, remains free of symptoms."

"His circulatory status is excellent and his pulse and blood pressure continue normal. His prothrombin time is being maintained at a satisfactory level. His electrocardiogram shows the usual evolution expected during the tenth week of convalescence."

"His weight is stable and his diet is being adjusted to increase in activities at the office and at the farm."

Weight Is Maintained

White House news secretary James G. Hagerty said the President's weight is being maintained at about 172 pounds as compared with 170 he weighed at the time of his heart attack Sept. 24.

By the diet adjustment, Hagerty said the doctors mean to keep the President's caloric intake at around 1,800 a day, decreasing and increasing it from day to day—depending on his activities—to keep the weight at the 172-pound level.

Hagerty said the doctors wanted it clear that there still are restrictions on Eisenhower's activities—that he "hasn't got complete freedom."

He still must have his regular rest period after lunch, and there can be "no golf" and a lot of "other things," Hagerty explained.

Going To Walter Reed

This morning's examinations lasted about 45 minutes. They are the last over-all examinations by Col. Mattingly and Gen. Snyder until Eisenhower goes to Walter Reed Hospital Dec. 10 for X-ray and fluoroscope tests.

The President will leave Gettysburg that day around 12:30 p.m. with a view of entering Walter Reed about 2:15 or 2:30 o'clock. After the examinations, he will go to the White House to spend the next few days. Hagerty said he will have a medical bulletin for release at the White House the afternoon of Dec. 10.

"Human Fly" Will Climb Y.S. Building

John J. Woods, a "human fly," will attempt to scale the 35-foot Hershey Store building in York Springs Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

A veteran of 39 years as a "human fly," Woods has scaled more than 5,000 buildings, among them the 62-story Woolworth building in New York City, and to the top of the William Penn Statue on the Philadelphia City Hall, he claims.

In the event of inclement weather Thursday night, Woods will attempt the climb on Friday evening. The York Springs Lions Club is sponsoring the event.

Hunters Throng Nearby Mountains As Deer Season Opens In State: Hundreds of deer hunters operating from scores of hunting camps that dot both slopes of the South Mountains tramped through the mountains Monday in quest of legal bucks as the deer season opened before daybreak today.

Up to late this afternoon only three kills had been reported.

But many more had probably been shot, for at most of the hunting lodges the hunting parties had not returned from the initial chase.

The bucks were reported killed by Paul Kobil who bagged his deer on the old Watson farm on the slopes of the South Mountain near Fairfield; John McKendrick, Buchanan Valley, who killed his deer near his home, and the third was reported killed at the Kane camp near the Narrows.

Footprints Of Woman's Slipper Found At Scene Of Chicken Theft:
Dainty footprints in the vicinity of the chicken house on the farm of Fred Troxell, Liberty township, tenanted by Raymond Mayer, today led state police to express the opinion that a feminine chicken thief is abroad in Adams County.

Mayer, who has had chickens stolen on previous occasions, lay in wait in the barn Sunday night for a possible return of the chicken thieves.

At 1:30 o'clock Mayer saw the shadowy figures of two persons approaching the chicken house. Mayer fired once with a shot gun in the direction of the pair, who immediately turned and fled.

Both persons wore long dark overcoats. Mayer told police. He was unable to recognize whether one of the would-be thieves was a woman, but small footprints in the soft ground near the chicken house led trooper J. K. Dula of the local state police substation to express the opinion that one of the thieves was a woman.

Today's Talk

POWER IN DECISION

All through our lives we are called upon to make decisions. All history is a recording of them. The United States of America owes its independence to fifty-six courageous colonists who prepared and signed the Declaration of Independence July 4th, 1776. Had they lost probably all would have been hung!

Henry Ford Sr. was a man of quick decisions, but he took a long time to change them, right or wrong. His high courage was often given the acid test but he kept gaining power because of his faith in his own decisions. Lincoln made his decisions slowly and after much thought and consultation, but in the end most of them turned out to be good.

Every youth has to make a decision as to his life work, and both his success and happiness depend upon that decision. It may be the most important of any he will be asked to render. Once made, however, many a hurdle in life will be courageously conquered. There is accumulated power gained from intelligent decisions.

Never in the history of the world were there such moments for grave decisions as confronted the leaders in America and Europe during two great world wars — and mighty decisions are yet to be made, on which war or peace may rest. Nothing can be so tragic as the thought of any war.

Patriotic blood must have flowed in torrents through the veins of Patrick Henry as he exclaimed:
"Give me liberty, or give me death!" No decision worth anything can be made without the will and the courage to carry it out.
That little word "No" gets plenty of exercise when decisions are to be made! Fear should have no place in their making. I like that line — from the Bible, I believe:
"This one thing I do!"

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Goal"

Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

I MUSTN'T FORGET
I mustn't forget that I'm gettin' old;
That's the worst thing ever a man can do.

I must keep in mind without bein' told

That old ideas must give way to new.

Let me be always upon my guard
Never a crabby old man to be.

Youth is too precious to have it marred

By the cranky whims of a man like me.

I must remember that customs change

An' I've had my youth an' my ha'r is gray.

Mustn't be too surprised at strange
Or startlin' things that the youngsters say.

Mustn't keep the bit in their mouths too tight.

Which is something old people are apt to do.

What used to be wrong, may today be right.

An' it may not be wrong just becoz it's new.

Want 'em to like me an' want 'em to know

That I need their laughter an'
mirth an' song.

An' I want 'em near, coz I love
'em so.

An' home is the place where their smiles belong.

They're growing up, and it seems so queer

To hear 'em talk of the views they hold.

But age with youth shouldn't interfere.

An' I mustn't forget that I'm gettin' old.

Three kinds of persons are responsible for the nation's traffic accidents—men, women and children.

They will be the target for the second observance of S-D Day on Thursday, sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety.

President Eisenhower has set this Safe Driving Day for Americans to prove that by their own efforts traffic accidents can be held to an absolute minimum for a 24-hour period.

The day is typically American, the committee said. Although officially sponsored by the President and his committee, its observance and all activities connected with it will be on a cooperative and volunteer basis.
Enforcement of traffic laws will not be given unusual emphasis for this special day. Instead, officials hope that arrests will be lower because of increased observance of safe driving practices.

Purpose of the day the committee said, is to increase awareness of the traffic accident problem and inspire drivers and pedestrians to assume their individual and personal responsibility for highway safety. They will be urged to:

1. Obey the letter and spirit of all traffic regulations by driving at speeds prescribed by law or indicated by road and weather conditions, by signaling turns and stops, by being extra alert and slowing at railroad crossings, and by crossing streets correctly at intersections.
2. Be courteous to all drivers and pedestrians, give a break to pedestrians and turning motorists, and to practice good sportsmanship by keeping to the right, staying in their own lane and avoiding unnecessary use of the horn.
3. Give full attention to driving and walking, practice the fundamentals of safe driving by keeping two hands on the wheel and attention on the road, keep windshields and windows clean and clear, and be alert to traffic conditions well ahead of and around their own cars.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Taneytown Fire Company met recently in the fire hall with 20 members in attendance.

The president named the following Social Committee for December: Chairman, Mrs. Harry Crouse; co-chairman, Mrs. Percy
Putman, Mabel Wantz, Mabel
Smith, Carrie Austin, Margaret
Sentz, Kay Mohny, Jean Harmon,

The following officers were nominated: President, Grace Rodgers; vice president, Carrie Austin; corresponding secretary, Grace Put-

U. S. TRAINING
GERMAN TEACHER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia's Common Pleas Court was told Monday the training a teacher receives here would be useless in Munich, Germany.

Francis D. Pastorius used that argument in an attempt to refute charges that Friederike Witte, 21-year-old junior at Penn State University, would return to her native
Germany after receiving a teacher's degree.

Pastorius argued before Judges
Raymond Mac Neille and Byron Milner on exceptions taken by him to a Sept. 6 ruling by Judge Mac Neille that Penn State has the legal right to charge a foreign-born alien
"non-resident" tuition fees.

Is Exchange Student

The jurist had dismissed a test suit brought by Herman Witte of Philadelphia, seeking return of additional fees he paid for his niece, who came to this country in 1950 as a foreign exchange student.

Pastorius told the two judges that Miss Witte's testimony at previous hearings plainly indicated she had no intention of returning to Germany after she graduated from Penn State.

"Once they set up a university," Pastorius said, "it must be available to all—citizen and alien alike."

Could Demand Education

Commented Judge Mac Neille:
"That's a pretty broad statement.
Aliens then could come in by the thousands and demand an education."

Jerome J. Shestack, attorney for Penn State trustees, asked the court to dismiss Pastorius' exceptions, declaring Judge Mac Neille's ruling had been correct.

Jack Sullivan, Mount Cage Ace, An All-America Shotmaker In 15 Team Mason-Dixon League

Marty Glickman, cage expert for "Sport" magazine, has cited Jack Sullivan, Mount St. Mary's star, for honorable mention All-American in his basketball roundup in the January issue. Glickman picked three all-star teams and named twenty-eight other cagers worthy of consideration.

In the same article Glickman said, "Schools like Mt. St. Mary's (Maryland), College of Steubenville (Ohio) and St. Ignace (Ill.) have built sound, strong ball clubs which can handle themselves well against major college competition."

Sullivan was one of three small college players named to the list of 43 All-American candidates by more than 100 coaches. Others were Bill Thibien, of Hofstra, and Paul Brownlee, of Steubenville. Brownlee and Sullivan will meet in the Mount St. Mary's gym on January 15 in the Mountaineers' only Sunday afternoon game.

In a bigger school where publicity is ground out by the sackful, Jack Sullivan, 6'4 forward for Mount St. Mary's College, would be almost a sure shot for All-American basketball honors. As it is the Mountaineer shotmaker has caused the greatest stir in Maryland sports circles since Jim Lacy came out of Baltimore's Loyola College to smash the nation's scoring records.

Most of Sullivan's hardwood feats are lost in the fanfare of lesser cage lights who have the advantage of displaying their talents on metropolitan courts before popping flash-bulbs. At Mount St. Mary's, Sullivan plays in comparative seclusion, for it's a rare occasion when a big city sports writer makes the two-hour trek into the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains. Yet when the sharpshooting youngster journeys cityward, he sets observers talking to themselves about his uncanny knack of dropping shots from all angles.

In 1954-55 the Mountaineers shotmaker was named the best ball player to turn up in the Jersey City Armory for a 44-point performance against St. Peter's College. He was also named to both conference and tourney all-star teams for the second straight year as he helped his teammates take their second straight Mason-Dixon Conference crown in Baltimore.

Record Smasher
At Mount St. Mary's Sullivan has taken dead aim on all the cage records of the 150-year-old Maryland school as well as most of the state records. With two more years of competition remaining, the Washington tow-head owns all but four Mount St. Mary's marks. After cracking all MSM records, the Washington shotmaker broke 6 Mason-Dixon tourney marks by scoring 93 points in 3 games including a 43 point outing against Baltimore U. Against Towson he had 21 in about 10 minutes action as the Mountaineers cleared their bench to win as they wished 101-64.

Coach Jim Phelan former LaSalle star and assistant to Ken Loeffler in 1953-54 when the Explorers won the NCAA championship, took the Mountaineer flash a really great shot from any place within 15 feet of the basket, "as good as anyone I've ever seen." That takes in a lot of territory including the great Tom Gola.

Most of the time Sullivan throws a one-hand push shot with a fine soft touch. But he also has a fine drive and an excellent right hand hook with which he scores effectively. On his drive Sullivan has an uncanny knack of finding the basket and his great spring takes him right to the baskets rim. Occasionally Sullivan's shot comes from the corner or outside, but he prefers to take the jump or drive.

Few Weaknesses
Offensively Phelan has few weaknesses. Phelan feels that he sometimes forces a shot, but thinks his greatest weakness is that he must learn what to do when he does not have the ball to get himself better open. But the former LaSalle star is quick to point out that few of the nation's juniors can do the things Sully manages. A 51 per cent shooting effectiveness over a two-year span bears him out.

Phelan finds Sullivan easy to coach, attentive and a hard worker who practices all the time to improve. Once Mount St. Mary's can hardly show the luxury of a fellow who can shoot and do nothing else. Sullivan is also one of Phelan's key board men, a very good jumper, strong, and fine on tap-ins. His defense is sooty but improving as Sully works doggedly at it.

Sullivan is also a fine clutch player, who comes up with key shots. He has scored 100 points in a game, 148 in a season, and 1,000 in his career. Sullivan's career record is 1,000 points in 29 games.

JACK SULLIVAN

as the Mountaineers dumped the Frankies and held Maurice Stokes, last year's NIT most valuable player to 7, his career low.

Developed Quickly

Things weren't always so rosy with Sullivan. As a freshman high school cager at Gonzaga high in Washington, he couldn't even make the squad. Transferring to Little St. Anthony's High in the district, where his father is a police inspector, Sully led the Tones to the Metropolitan championship in '53 despite the fact that they were unseeded, having moved into the tourney only because two Maryland teams had turned down berths. For his performances Sully won all sorts of honors including the Livingstone award as Washington's outstanding school-boy cager.

Used sparingly in early season of his freshman year at Mount St. Mary's, Sullivan scored 431 points and sparked the Mountaineers to their first tourney crown in ten years. Last year the Mounties won 23 and lost 4 during St. Francis of Loretto, St. Francis of Brooklyn, St. Peter's and Georgetown in addition to all their conference opponents for the best season in Mountaineer history.

Off the floor Sullivan is a big, unassuming kid, who is kidding perpetually about his habit of drinking four quarts of milk a day. Majoring in social science he hopes someday to get a chance to play with the pros before he settles down to the business of making a career for himself in business or coaching.

Bright Pro Prospect

Coach Phelan figures that he is a bright pro prospect right now and is certain that he could make any team in the country because of his rebounding and shooting. By the time he adds the polish of two more years of competition, he should have no trouble at all in moving into the pro ranks. After all, his record speaks for itself.

Sullivan holds these Mount St. Mary's records:

Most field goals in career: 421
Best average, for one season: 25.3
Most points for one season: 684
Most field goals in one season: 252

Most points in one game: 44 vs. Baltimore U. '53-'54, and also vs. St. Peter's '54-'55.

Most field goals in one game: 18 vs. Baltimore U. '53-'54
In addition Sully has smashed the State record for one season and is 123 points shy of the Mount St. Mary's career record.

CASSADY WINS HEISMAN PRIZE

NEW YORK (AP)—Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, Ohio State's All-American back, is the third straight Mid-Western football player to win the Heisman Memorial Trophy.

The elusive Columbus, Ohio, native who led the Buckeyes to their second straight Big 10 championship, won the award yesterday by a landslide in a poll of 1,324 sports writers and broadcasters.

Cassidy, collected 2,219 points in the balloting conducted by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York to determine the outstanding college football player in the United States.

Last year's winner was Alan Ameche of Wisconsin.

John Frank junior halfback at Texas Christian, was second to Cassidy in the voting with 742 votes. Others getting votes were George Welch Navy, 383, Earl Morrill Michigan State, 323, Paul Hornum Notre Dame, 321, Bob Peeler in Maryland, 294, Ron Barger, N.C., 217, Ray Kline at Iowa, 192, Bo Jole at Oklahoma, 148, Ed McCaffrey at Iowa, 138, and Alvin Harrison at California, 118.

BASILIO RISKS WELTERWEIGHT TITLE TONIGHT

Basilio, a 23-year-old ex-Marine from Canastota, N. Y., rules only a slight favorite in his first defense since lifting the title from the 23-year-old bomb-throwing Bostonian in a sensational brawl last June 10.

Odds dropped from 9-5 to less than 7-5 on Basilio. The Boston Garden fight is scheduled for 15 rounds, but few experts figure it will go the distance.

Basilio, with an undefeated string of 14 fights, is returning a courtesy by meeting DeMarco on the challenger's home grounds. Tony made his first defense of the title in Syracuse, N. Y., and lost the crown on a 12th-round TKO.

Two Defenders Lost
The champion also will be out to halt what could become a string. In the last two welter title fights, champions have lost the crown in first defenses. DeMarco stopped Johnny Saxton, making his first defense of the championship, in the 14th round April 1, and then lost to Basilio. All told, 11 welterweight champions have lost their titles the first time they've put them on the line, and seven have regained them.

ABC will broadcast and telecast the bout, with New England TV blacked out.

The prospects of another bruising punching duel, and DeMarco's fine showing in training has resulted in a brisk ticket sale. Promoter Sam Silverman expects a near-capacity crowd of 13,000 and gross receipts of about $190,000.

Since winning the title, Basilio has gone 20 rounds in competition, outpunching Italo Scorticchini and Gil Turner in over-the-weight affairs. He has an over-all record of 47-11-7 with 21 knockouts and never has been stopped.

DeMarco has had only one fight since losing his title — a quick, first-round TKO over Chico Velazquez in Boston Sept. 14. His record is 41-5-3 with 26 knockouts. He has been stopped three times.

URGES BAN ON POLICY FUSSES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles Tuesday called on Republicans as well as Democrats to avoid partisan foreign policy quarrels, which, he said, might "endanger our nation."

Dulles suggested at a news conference that Republicans, as well as Democrats, should avoid what he called "excesses" in debate on foreign policy in the campaign.

He said he himself is trying to avoid getting drawn into "what would reasonably be considered a partisan position."

Dulles said he has no present intention of making Republican party speeches in the 1956 campaign. But, he added, unspecified events could change his mind.

Dulles refused to comment on criticisms of Eisenhower administration foreign policy made by Adlai Stevenson Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, and other top Democrats.

The meeting with newsmen was Dulles' first since his return from the Geneva ministers' conference at Geneva.

Little League Seeks To Prevent Another Circuit

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Little League Baseball, Inc., has asked a federal judge to issue an injunction preventing former Little League Commissioner Carl Stotz from forming a rival organization.

The action filed yesterday with the Middle District Court of Pennsylvania is aimed at removing a prior suit brought by Stotz against the league from a state court to federal jurisdiction, a spokesman said.

Little League, Inc., with headquarters here, is a New York corporation and President Peter J. McGovern said there are federal trademarks involved in the dispute.

Stotz, who founded the nationwide baseball organization for boys between the ages of 8 and 12 in 1935, says he intends to set up a new organization to be called "Original Little League."

He was fired as commissioner of Little League, Inc., last week after announcing a $300,000 breach of contract suit against the league. Stotz called a meeting at Pittsburgh Dec. 10-11 when, he said, he intends to offer franchises in "Original Little League" to the 3,977 Little Leagues around the world and to gain more support from volunteer workers within the present organization.

The action by Little League, Inc., yesterday states that "it is absolutely essential that Little League, in order to preserve the national program and protect its integrity, must come out in the open with the full story of this unfortunate controversy and let the public know exactly what has gone on over the period of development of Little League."

Alleges Alterations
Stotz contends that his position, prestige and authority, guaranteed in his life contract, were altered by the league's board of directors and had resulted in deviations from the original concept of the Little League movement.

FAURE DEFEATED BUT HE MAY GET EARLY ELECTION

By HARVEY HUDSON
PARIS (AP)—The French Cabinet meets today to decide whether to dissolve the National Assembly in a rare maneuver which would give Premier Edgar Faure the early elections Parliament denied him.

Holding a confidence vote on a procedural question but actually moving to stage off the early parliamentary balloting, the Assembly gave the ax to the government last night 318-281. But by their whopping majority against Faure, the overenthusiastic deputies made it possible for the Cabinet to boot them out of office under a constitutional clause never applicable before.

Article 51 of the 1946 constitution says that when two Cabinets have been thrown out within 18 months by "constitutional majorities"—more than half the assembly's 625 members—the Cabinet can dissolve the Assembly. Pierre Mendes-France was ousted from the premiership by a 318-273 vote Feb. 5, less than 10 months ago.

Cabinet May Resign
If the Cabinet decides to merely hand in its own resignation, this would set in motion the familiar routine of French politics—presidential consultations with party leaders, choice of a prospective premier, weeks of dickerings to line up Assembly support and eventual announcement of a new Cabinet.

Either way, Faure and his Cabinet will continue in office in a caretaker status.

Weighing against Assembly dissolution was the constitutional requirement that new elections be held within 20 to 30 days. That would put the balloting around Christmas, a time certain to be unpopular with the voters.

Assembly elections normally would be held next June, but Faure wanted to advance them to early December. Mendes-France, fighting for time to drum up support for a comeback attempt, led the move which thwarted the Premier. There had been talk of an early spring vote as a compromise.

Cabinet Is Divided
The Cabinet was said to be sharply divided, with a small majority in favor of sending the deputies out to face the voters.

Independent Republicans and the Popular Republican Movement (MRP) were reported leading the fight for dissolution.

Faure's own party, the Radical Socialists, was said to be against dissolution. Mendes-France, who dominated the party machinery and 24 of its 65 Assembly members, followed his lead. The former Premier canceled a U. S. visit to speak on the political crisis. He had been scheduled to leave last night to speak in New York and Louisville.

CARDINALS AND GIANTS TALKING BASEBALL TRADE

By JOE REICHLER
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Major league trade talk, almost nil during the opening days of the minors' convention, perked up briskly today and, as usual, frantic Frankie Lane, the boldest barterer of them all, was right in the middle of things.

The energetic general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, who has found it tough sledding in his efforts to swing his first National League swap since he quit the Chicago White Sox last month, appeared finally to be making some headway.

He spent most of yesterday in conference with officials of the New York Giants, Philadelphia Phillies and Chicago Cubs. While no deal stemmed from these long sessions, it was expected that something will develop when he resumes negotiations with the three clubs today.

Lane seeks a catcher, a right-handed hitting outfielder and a front-line pitcher.

It can be reliably reported that the Cardinals are trying to woo Wes Westrum, strong defensive but weak-hitting catcher, from the Giants in exchange for infielder Solly Hemus and one of two outfielders believed to be Harry Elliott and Pete Whisenant.

The Giants reportedly have sounded Lane out on an entirely different deal, a big one that would involve Red Schoendienst, the Cards' aging but still brilliant second baseman. The deal would include Whitely Lockman and right-handed Jim Hearn of New York.

Both Lane and General Manager Roy Hamey of the Phillies acknowledged they were "not too far apart" in their proposed transaction that involves several players of regular status. Both sides declined to mention names.

In the American League, Cleveland, seeking to strengthen such positions as first base, pitching and catching, has talked to Baltimore concerning first baseman Gus Triandos and catcher Hal Smith, to Chicago concerning catcher Sherman Lollar and to Washington about southpaw Maury McDermott.

Minors Finish Draft
In other action yesterday, the minors finished their player draft with selections by Class B and C leagues.

The draft choices included: Dallas of the Texas League picked up outfielder Bob Presscott, under contract to Williamsport of the Eastern League, who played last year with Hollywood of the Coast League.

San Antonio of the Texas League drafted right-handed pitcher Richard Mitchner from Reading of the Eastern League. Mitchner was with Sherbrooke of the Provincial League last year.

Birmingham of the Southern Assn. drafted third baseman Milt Graff from Williamsport. Mobile of the Southern Assn. drafted Jess Rogers from Johnstown in the Eastern League.

Other Selections
Nashville of the Southern Assn. drafted Don Strickland from Schenectady of the Eastern League. He was with Reidsville last year.

Drafted by Eastern League teams were:

By Johnstown — Pitcher Raoul Santos from Evansville.
By Williamsport — First baseman-outfielder Elias Osorio from Anarado.

By Elmira — Outfielder Don Cathol from Peoria.

By Binghamton — Third baseman Curtis Hardaway from Tampa. The Eastern League at the same time voted for a 149-game schedule in 1956 beginning April 24 and closing Sept. 9. The club leading the league on July 3, will be host to the annual A-S-A game to be played early in the second week of August.

Davies Sends His Initial Bullet Court Team Against Blue Jays Here Thursday

BIGLER CAGERS HAVE 7 VETS; START FRIDAY

Prospects are good for a successful basketball season at Biglerville High School where Coach Dick Allison has seven returnees from last year's varsity squad.

Veterans from last year include: Ronald Group, Eugene Shaffer, Larry Hoke, Garnet Coble, Ronald Koonz and Rodney Miller, all seniors, and Donald Hartzel, junior.

Among the candidates from last year's junior varsity are Ray Schwartz, senior; James Smallwood, Donald Bowers, Nelson Weber, Robert Clark, Larry Shillito, Harold Wright, Richard Fink, juniors, and John Constable, sophomore. Russell Bolen, junior, without any previous experience, is also seeking a berth.

A pair of promising sophomores may draw the other assignments. Bob Wolsack, 6-2, of Newark, N. J., is scheduled to pair with Hokenbury of forward while Barclay Sell, 5-11, of West Lawn, or Wally Kulligowski, 6-3 vet, will team up with Teth at guard.

The Blue Jays held practice sessions here Monday evening with Camp Ritchie and won 86-71, but appeared slow at times. This is expected to be ironed out as the season progresses.

Elizabethtown comes here with one of its most promising teams in years. Last year the Blue Jays trounced the Blue Jays 88-82 and many of the lads who took part in that victory will again oppose the locals.

Blue Jays Strong
Heading the returnees are Sal Paone, who averaged 15.3 points per game last season; Jim Chase, 6-4, former Chambersburg star, and Jim Sarbaugh.

Harvey Jacobs is the only starter of last year lost via graduation to the Blue Jays. Dick Stine, 6-4, is sidelined due to a ruptured disc.

Coach Don Smith has Bob Goudle and Mel Longenecker returning from last year's squad and is looking to Tony Acuri and Fred Noel who transferred from York Junior College, Bill Penney, Ed Geiger, Glenn Peck and Sheldon Dent, freshmen, to provide the first line replacements.

Following Thursday's game the Blue Jays will be called upon to take on another stiff foe Saturday evening when Lebanon Valley's Flying Dutchmen will appear here.

The brilliant Howie Landa will be missing from the lineup but Coach George Marquette has the foundation for another solid team.

Returning from last year's squad, which won 19 against but five losses, including a pair of wins over the Blue Jays, are the following lettermen: Don Reinhard, 6-5; Bob Nelson, 6-5; Richard Shover, 6-1; Gerry Steger, 5-7, and Jackson Peepe, 6-2. Bob Bowman, 6-4, has rejoined the Dutchmen after a tour of military duty.

Dickinson will play at Lebanon Valley Thursday evening.

State Police Force To Observe Anniversary
HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania state police force, which calls itself "the first organization of its kind in the United States," will hold a 50th anniversary dinner Dec. 15 at nearby Hershey.

Col. E. J. Henry, commissioner of the 1,900-man force, yesterday invited all members of the original organization, activated Dec. 15, 1905, to attend the dinner.

Cols. Lynn G. Adams and C. M. Wilhelm, former commissioners, also will attend the observance. The force was activated in 1905 with 159 men.

Exhibitors Cop Livestock Honors
CHICAGO (AP)—Two honors went to Pennsylvania exhibitors yesterday at the International Livestock Exposition.

The reserve champion herd, Hereford, was shown by Pennsylvania State University, and the grand champion Aberdeen-Angus bull Ankonian 13th, was shown by Ankonian Farm, Rhinebeck, N. Y., and Millard Farms, Annville, Pa.

Dalton Seeks High Court Vacancy Nod
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Judge Vincent J. Dalton, Schuylkill County Common Pleas Court announced today he will seek the Democratic nomination for the state Supreme Court vacancy occurring next year when Chief Justice Horace Stern's term expires.

Dalton, 59, was first elected to the Schuylkill County Court in 1940 and was re-elected in 1949. He resides in Cressona and is a graduate of Vassar College.

Under the constitution, members of the Supreme Court cannot seek re-election when their 21-year term expires.

A milestone in Gettysburg College basketball history will be reached Thursday evening at 8 o'clock when the Blue Jays open their 1955-56 season by entertaining Elizabethtown College here.

For the first time in 28 years, the Blue Jays will have a new mentor—Bob Davies, erstwhile star of the Rochester Royals of the National Basketball League. Davies replaces Henry T. Bream, now athletic director, who resigned last year after piloting Blue Jays court teams for more than a quarter of a century.

Coach Davies faces an old enigma with his first cage squad—lack of height—but has eight leftmen remaining from last year's squad. However, the big point men of last year, Bill Snyder and Eddie Ferren, will be missing via graduation.

The Blue Jays have been drilling since November 1 although several candidates—Fred Alleva, Bill Ward, Art Hendley and Frank Capitani—were prevented from reporting until recently due to football.

Joe Blerly, 6-3; Dick Hokenbury, 6-3, and Al Teth, 6, are veterans who have been nominated by Coach Davies to take the court against the Blue Jays.

A pair of promising sophomores may draw the other assignments. Bob Wolsack, 6-2, of Newark, N. J., is scheduled to pair with Hokenbury of forward while Barclay Sell, 5-11, of West Lawn, or Wally Kulligowski, 6-3 vet, will team up with Teth at guard.

Coach Don Smith has Bob Goudle and Mel Longenecker returning from last year's squad and is looking to Tony Acuri and Fred Noel who transferred from York Junior College, Bill Penney, Ed Geiger, Glenn Peck and Sheldon Dent, freshmen, to provide the first line replacements.

Following Thursday's game the Blue Jays will be called upon to take on another stiff foe Saturday evening when Lebanon Valley's Flying Dutchmen will appear here.

The brilliant Howie Landa will be missing from the lineup but Coach George Marquette has the foundation for another solid team.

Returning from last year's squad, which won 19 against but five losses, including a pair of wins over the Blue Jays, are the following lettermen: Don Reinhard, 6-5; Bob Nelson, 6-5; Richard Shover, 6-1; Gerry Steger, 5-7, and Jackson Peepe, 6-2. Bob Bowman, 6-4, has rejoined the Dutchmen after a tour of military duty.

Dickinson will play at Lebanon Valley Thursday evening.

State Police Force To Observe Anniversary
HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania state police force, which calls itself "the first organization of its kind in the United States," will hold a 50th anniversary dinner Dec. 15 at nearby Hershey.

Col. E. J. Henry, commissioner of the 1,900-man force, yesterday invited all members of the original organization, activated Dec. 15, 1905, to attend the dinner.

Cols. Lynn G. Adams and C. M. Wilhelm, former commissioners, also will attend the observance. The force was activated in 1905 with 159 men.

Jack Sullivan, Mount Cage Ace, An All-America Shotmaker In 15 Team Mason-Dixon League

Marty Glickman, cage expert for "Sport" magazine, has cited Jack Sullivan, Mount St. Mary's star, for honorable mention All-American in his basketball roundup in the January issue. Glickman picked three all-star teams and named twenty-eight other cagers worthy of consideration.

In the same article Glickman said, "Schools like Mt. St. Mary's (Maryland), College of Steubenville (Ohio) and Spring Hill have built sound, strong ball clubs which can handle themselves well against major college competition."

Sullivan was one of three small college players named to the list of 43 all-America candidates by more than 100 coaches. Others were Bill Thibien, of Hofstra, and Paul Brownlee, of Steubenville. Brownlee and Sullivan will meet in the Mount St. Mary's gym on January 15 in the Mountaineer's only Sunday afternoon game.

In a bigger school where publicity is ground out by the sackful, Jack Sullivan, 6'4 forward for Mount St. Mary's College, would be almost a sure shot for All-American basketball honors. As it is the Mountaineer shotmaker has caused the greatest stir in Maryland sports circles since Jim Lacy came out of Baltimore's Loyola College to smash the nation's scoring records.

Most of Sullivan's hardwood feats are lost in the fanfare of lesser cage lights who have the advantage of displaying their talents on metropolitan courts before popping flashbulbs. At Mount St. Mary's, Sullivan plays in comparative seclusion, for it's a rare occasion when a big city sports writer makes the two-hour trek into the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains. Yet when the sharpshooting youngster journeys cityward, he sets observers talking to themselves about his uncanny knack of dropping shots from all angles.

In 1954-55 the Mountaineers shotmaker was named the best ball player to turn up in the Jersey City Armory for a 44-point performance against St. Peter's College. He was also named to both conference and tournament all-star teams for the second straight year as he helped his teammates take their second straight Mason-Dixon Conference crown in Baltimore.

Record Smasher
At Mount St. Mary's Sullivan has taken dead aim on all the cage records of the 150-year-old Maryland school as well as most of the state records. With two more years of competition remaining, the Washington tow-head owns all but four Mount St. Mary's marks. After cracking all MSM records the Washington shotmaker broke 6 Mason-Dixon tournament marks by scoring 93 points in 3 games including a 43 point outing against Baltimore U. Against Towson he had 21 in about 10 minutes action as the Mountaineers cleared their bench to win his latest 101-64.

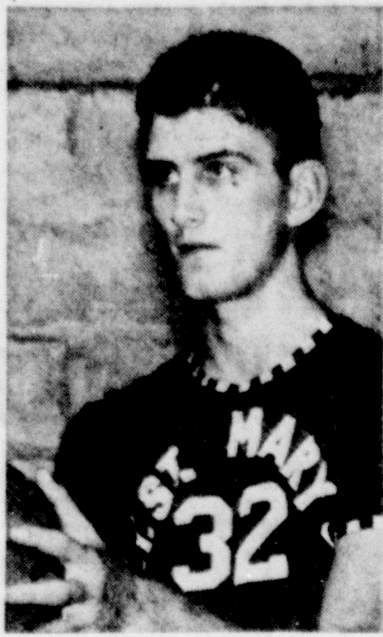

Coach Jim Phelan, former LaSalle star and assistant to Ken Loeffler in 1953-54 when the Explorers won the NCAA championship, tabs the Mountaineer flash a really great shot from any place within 15 feet of the basket. "As good as anyone I've ever seen." That takes in a lot of territory including the great Tom Gola.

Most of the time Sullivan throws a one-hand push shot with a fine soft touch. But he also has a fine drive and an excellent right hand hook with which he scores effectively. On his drive Sullivan has an uncanny knack of finding the basket and his great spring takes him right to the baskets rim. Occasionally Sullivan sets from the corner or outside, but he prefers to take the jump or drive.

Few Weaknesses
Offensively Sullivan has few weaknesses. Phelan feels that he sometimes forces a shot, but thinks his greatest weakness is that he must learn what to do when he does not have the ball to get himself better openings. But the former LaSalle star is quick to point out that few of the nation's juniors can do the things Sullivan manages. A 51 per cent shooting effectiveness over a two year span bears him out.

Phelan finds Sullivan easy to coach, attentive, and a hard worker who practices all the time to improve. Since Mount St. Mary's can hardly avoid the luxury of a fellow who can shoot and do nothing else, Sullivan is also one of Phelan's key board men, a very good jumper, strong, and fine on tap ins. His defense is spotty but improving as Sullivan works doggedly at it.

Sullivan is also a fine clutch player, who comes up with key goals, impossible shots, and last second taps when the chips are down. Against St. Francis of Loyola, Sullivan poked in 29 points as the Mountaineers dumped the Frankies and held Maurice Stokes, last year's NIT most valuable player to 7, his career low.

Developed Quickly
Things weren't always so rosy with Sullivan. As a freshman high school cager at Gonzaga high in Washington, he couldn't even make the squad. Transferring to little St. Anthony's High in the district, where his father is a police inspector, Sully led the Tonies to the Metropolitan championship in '53 despite the fact that they were unseeded, having moved into the tourney only because two Maryland teams had turned down berths. For his performances Sully won all sorts of honors including the Livingstone award as Washington's outstanding schoolboy cager.

Used sparingly in early season of his freshman year at Mount St. Mary's Sullivan scored 431 points and sparked the Mountaineers to their first tourney crown in ten years. Last year the Mounties won 23 and lost 4 during St. Francis of Loretto, St. Francis of Brooklyn, St. Peter's and Georgetown in addition to all their conference opponents for the best season in Mountaineer history.

Off the floor Sullivan is a big, unassuming kid, who is kidded perpetually about his habit of drinking four quarts of milk a day. Majoring in social science he hopes someday to get a chance to play with the pros before he settles down to the business of making a career for himself in business or coaching.

Bright Pro Prospect
Coach Phelan figures that he is a bright pro prospect right now and is certain that he could make any team in the country because of his rebounding and shooting. By the time he adds the polish of two more years of competition, he should have no trouble at all in moving into the pro ranks. After all, his record speaks for itself.

Sullivan holds these Mount St. Mary's records:
Most field goals in career: 421.
Best average, for one season: 25.3.

Most points for one season: 684.
Most field goals in one season: 252.

Most points in one game: 44 vs. Baltimore U. '53-'54, and also vs. St. Peter's '54-'55.

Most field goals in one game: 18 vs. Baltimore U. '53-'54.

In addition Sully has smashed the State record for one season and is 123 points shy of the Mount St. Mary's career record.

CASSADY WINS HEISMAN PRIZE

NEW YORK (AP)—Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, Ohio State All-America back, is the third straight Mid-Western football player to win the Heisman Memorial Trophy.

The elusive Columbus, Ohio, native who led the Buckeyes to their second straight Big 10 championship, won the award yesterday by a landslide in a poll of 1,324 sports writers and broadcasters.

Cassidy, collected 2,219 points in the balloting conducted by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York to determine the "outstanding college football player in the United States."

Last year's winner was Alan Ameche of Wisconsin.

Jim Swink, junior halfback at Texas Christian, was second to Cassidy in the voting with 742 votes. Others getting votes were: George Welsh, Navy, 383; Earl Morrill, Michigan State, 333; Paul Hornung, Notre Dame, 321; Bob Pellagrini, Maryland, 294; Ron Beagle, Navy, 212; Ron Kramer, Michigan, 192; Bo Bolinger, Oklahoma, 148; Calvin Jones, Iowa, 138; Jon Arnett, Southern California, 118.

BASILIO RISKS WELTERWEIGHT TITLE TONIGHT

Basilio, a 28-year-old ex-Marine from Canastota, N. Y., rules only a slight favorite in his first defense since lifting the title from the 23-year-old bomb-throwing Bostonian in a sensational brawl last June 10.

Odds dropped from 9-5 to less than 7-5 on Basilio. The Boston Garden fight is scheduled for 15 rounds, but few experts figure it will go the distance.

Basilio, with an undefeated string of 14 fights, is returning a courtesy by meeting DeMarco on the challenger's home grounds. Tony made his first defense of the title in Syracuse, N. Y., and lost the crown on a 12th-round TKO.

Two Defenders Lost
The champion also will be out to halt what could become a string. In the last two welter title fights, champions have lost the crown in first defenses. DeMarco stopped Johnny Saxton, making his first defense of the championship, in the 14th round April 1, and then lost to Basilio. All told, 11 welterweight champions have lost their titles the first time they've put them on the line, and seven have regained them.

ABC will broadcast and telecast the bout, with New England TV blacked out.

The prospects of another bruising punching duel and DeMarco's fine showing in training has resulted in a brisk ticket sale. Promoter Sam Silverman expects a near-capacity crowd of 13,000 and gross receipts of about $190,000.

Since winning the title, Basilio has gone 20 rounds in competition, outpointing Italo Scorticini and Gil Turner in over-the-weight affairs. He has an over-all record of 47-11-7 with 21 knockouts and never has been stopped.

DeMarco has had only one fight since losing his title — a quick, first-round TKO over Chico Vejar in Boston Sept. 14. His record is 41-5-1 with 26 knockouts. He has been stopped three times.

URGES BAN ON POLICY FUSSES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles Tuesday called on Republicans as well as Democrats to avoid partisan foreign policy quarrels which, he said, might "endanger our nation."

Dulles suggested at a news conference that Republicans, as well as Democrats, should avoid what he called "excesses" in debate on foreign policy in the campaign.

He said he himself is trying to avoid getting drawn into "what would reasonably be considered a partisan position."

Dulles said he has no present intention of making Republican party speeches in the 1956 campaign. But, he added, unspecified events could change his mind.

Dulles refused to comment on criticisms of Eisenhower administration foreign policy made by Adlai Stevenson, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, and other top Democrats.

The meeting with newsmen was Dulles' first since his return from the foreign ministers' conference at Geneva.

Little League Seeks To Prevent Another Circuit

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Little League Baseball, Inc., has asked a federal judge to issue an injunction preventing former Little League Commissioner Carl Stotz from forming a rival organization.

The action filed yesterday with the Middle District Court of Pennsylvania is aimed at removing a prior suit brought by Stotz against the league from a state court to federal jurisdiction, a spokesman said.

Little League, Inc., with headquarters here, is a New York corporation and President Peter J. McGovern said there are federal trademarks involved in the dispute.

Stotz, who founded the nationwide baseball organization for boys between the ages of 8 and 12 in 1935, says he intends to set up a new organization to be called "Original Little League."

Stotz Calls Meeting
He was fired as commissioner of Little League, Inc., last week after announcing a $300,000 breach of contract suit against the league. Stotz called a meeting at Pittsburgh Dec. 10-11 when, he said, he intends to offer franchises in "Original Little League" to the 3,977 Little Leagues around the world and to gain more support from volunteer workers within the present organization.

The action by Little League, Inc., yesterday states that "it is absolutely essential that Little League, in order to preserve the national program and protect its integrity, must come out in the open with the full story of this unfortunate controversy and let the public know exactly what has gone on over the period of development of Little League."

Alleges Alterations
Stotz contends that his position, prestige and authority, guaranteed in his life contract, were altered by the league's board of directors and had resulted in deviations from the original concept of the Little League movement.

Little League, Inc., said in its court action that it "has never departed from its original purpose of a proper program; that its development had the full approval of a group of able, honest and outstanding local businessmen on the board of directors as well as men with a national interest.

"These men have been almost unanimous in the feeling that the developments which have taken place to which Mr. Stotz objects were necessary and furthered the original concept while the policies and restriction of the development sought by Mr. Stotz, are in fact, detrimental to the program."

A hearing will be held Monday on the injunction request before federal Judge Frederick V. Folmer at Lewisburg.

LONG DISTANCE MAY STOP MIAMI JOINING LEAGUE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Miami's fate as a potential member of the American Assn. hung in the balance today as league directors studied a "dry run" schedule to determine mileage and expenses of travel to the Southern city.

One baseball man said in all seriousness, "The best thing would be for each club to buy its own plane."

The association made a conciliatory move yesterday toward the Milwaukee Braves who persist in trying to shift their Toledo franchise to Miami despite local league opposition. It asked for a sample schedule. One was drawn up calling for two trips to each city, including two 2,100-mile hops between Miami and Denver.

Opposition Weakens
There were indications, however, that the opposition was weakening in view of the association's new headache at Louisville. The Boston Red Sox, who have operated at Louisville since 1938, put the franchise on the market Monday night after they bought the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast League.

Johnny Murphy, Boston farm director, promised to give the association a definite statement of policy by Saturday. If possible, Boston has advised Fred Grimm, Louisville general manager, to try to negotiate a sale to local interests. An outside group, which would operate in Louisville, also is bidding.

START PROBE OF CLEVELAND BOXING MATCH

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission tomorrow begins an investigation of a boxing match held in Cleveland in an effort to determine if one of the fighters was drugged.

The commission said it wants to delve into reports Coley Wallace was drugged. In the fight in question—staged Oct. 1, 1954, at Cleveland Auditorium—Wallace lost a decision to heavyweight Bob Baker of Pittsburgh.

Al Klein, Philadelphia member of the three-man athletic commission, said at a press conference yesterday that Wallace, his manager, Frank (Blinky) Palermo, and a second in the Cleveland fight, Jimmy Wilson, would be questioned in closed sessions.

Klein said the Pennsylvania Commission is investigating the Cleveland fight, because: "Palermo and Wallace were licensees of the Pennsylvania Commission at the time of the fight and if anyone was involved in conduct detrimental to the best interest of boxing it is not only our right but our duty to investigate it."

CARDINALS AND GIANTS TALKING BASEBALL TRADE

By JOE REICHLER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Major league trade talk, almost nil during the opening days of the minors' convention, perked up briskly today and, as usual, frantic Frankie Lane, the boldest barterer of them all, was right in the middle of things.

The energetic general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, who has found it tough sledding in his efforts to swing his first National League swap since he quit the Chicago White Sox last month, appeared finally to be making some headway.

He spent most of yesterday in conference with officials of the New York Giants, Philadelphia Phillies and Chicago Cubs. While no deal stemmed from these long sessions, it was expected that something will develop when he resumes negotiations with the three clubs today.

Lane Seeks Catcher
Lane admitted he was seeking a veteran catcher, a right-handed hitting outfielder and a front-line pitcher.

It can be reliably reported that the Cardinals are trying to woo Wes Westrum, strong defensive but weak-hitting catcher, from the Giants in exchange for infielder Sully Hemus and one of two outfielders believed to be Harry Elliott and Pete Whisenant.

The Giants reportedly have sounded Lane out on an entirely different deal, a big one that would involve Red Schoendienst, the Cards' aging but still brilliant second baseman. The deal would include Whitely Lockman and right-handed Jim Hearn of New York.

Both Lane and General Manager Roy Hamey of the Phillies acknowledged they were "not too far apart" in their proposed transaction that involves several players of regular status. Both sides declined to mention names.

In the American League, Cleveland, seeking to strengthen such positions as first base, pitching and catching, has talked to Baltimore concerning first baseman Gus Triandos and catcher Hal Smith, to Chicago concerning catcher Sherman Lollar and to Washington about southpaw Maury McDermott.

Minors Finish Draft
In other action yesterday, the minors finished their player draft with selections by Class B and C leagues.

The draft choices included: Dallas of the Texas League picked up outfielder Bob Prescott, under contract to Williamsport of the Eastern League, who played last year with Hollywood of the Coast League.

San Antonio of the Texas League drafted right-handed pitcher Richard Mitchner from Reading of the Eastern League. Mitchner was with Sherbrooke of the Provincial League last year.

Birmingham of the Southern Assn. drafted third baseman Milt Graft from Williamsport. Mobile of the Southern Assn. drafted Jess Rogers from Johnstown in the Eastern League.

Other Selections
Nashville of the Southern Assn. drafted Don Strickch from Schenectady of the Eastern League. He was with Reidsville last year.

Drafted by Eastern League teams were:

By Johnstown — Pitcher Raoul Santos from Evansville.

By Williamsport — First baseman-outfielder Elias Osorio from Amarillo.

By Binghamton — Third baseman Curtis Hardaway from Tampa.

The Eastern League at the same time voted for a 140-game schedule in 1956 beginning April 24 and closing Sept. 9. The club leading the league on July 31 will be host to the annual All-Star game, to be played early in the second week of August.

BIGLER CAGERS HAVE 7 VETS; START FRIDAY

Prospects are good for a successful basketball season at Biglerville High School where Coach Dick Allison has seven returnees from last year's varsity squad.

Veterans from last year include: Ronald Group, Eugene Shaffer, Larry Hoke, Garnet Coble, Ronald Koonitz and Rodney Miller, all seniors, and Donald Hartzel, junior.

A group of 12 former Junior High dribblers round out the squad. They include Jay Zeigler, William Payne, Cecil Showers, Richard Byers, Blaine Harvey, John Sionaker, Richard Cutshall, Don Coble, Parker Coble, Gerald Dorsey, Richard Hartzel and Richard Beatty, all sophomores.

After cuts are made the varsity squad for the coming campaign will probably include Group, Shaffer, Hoke, Coble, Koonitz, Miller, Schwartz, Smallwood, Bowers, Donald Hartzel, Weber, Clark and Constable.

Coach Allison lost but three members from last year's varsity squad, Frank Cline, Nevin Frantz and John Day.

The Canners will open their season Friday evening by meeting Shipensburg on the Biglerville floor.

FAIRFIELD HIGH DRIBBLERS TO PLAY 26 GAMES

A rugged 26-game schedule, including 14 home contests and 12 away, has been prepared for the Fairfield High School boys' basketball this season.

The opening game will be played with Northern Joint of Dillsburg at Fairfield, Friday evening.

Ten games have been carded for the girls' squad.

A total of 31 candidates reported to Coach Johnny McAndrews for the opening practice on November 7.

Among the most promising candidates are Kenny Kuykendall, 6, and Jim Musselman, 5-10, both juniors, and Bill Renner, 5-9, and Jim Cool, 5-9, sophomores.

Boys' Schedule
The boys' schedule follows:

December 2, Northern Jt., home; 5, St. John's, away; 7, St. Joseph's, home; 8, St. Thomas, home; 12, St. Joseph's, away; 13, Emmitsburg, home; 14, St. John's, home; 16, Spring Grove, away; 20, Smithsburg, away; 22, Smithsburg, home; 23, Northern Jt., away; 30, Alumni, home.

February 3, East Berlin, away; 7, York Springs, home; 10, Biglerville, home; 14, Littlestown, home; 17, Newville, away.

December 7, St. Joseph's, home; 12, St. Joseph's, away; 13, Emmitsburg, home; January 6, New Oxford, home; 13, York Springs, away; 20, Littlestown, away; 27, Boiling Springs, home; February 3, East Berlin, away; 10, Biglerville, home; 17, Newville, away.

Dalton Seeks High Court Vacancy Nod

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Judge Vincent J. Dalton, Schuylkill County Common Pleas Court, announced today he will seek the Democratic nomination for the state Supreme Court vacancy occurring next year when Chief Justice Horace Stern's term expires.

Dalton, 59, was first elected to the Schuylkill County Court in 1940 and was re-elected in 1949. He resides in Cresona and is a graduate of Villanova College.

Under the constitution, members of the Supreme Court cannot seek re-election when their 21-year term expires.

A milestone in Gettysburg College basketball history will be reached Thursday evening at 8 o'clock when the Bullets open their 1955-56 season by entertaining Elizabethtown College here.

For the first time in 28 years, the Bullets will have a new mentor—Bob Davies, erstwhile star of the Rochester Royals of the National Basketball League. Davies replaces Henry T. Bream, now athletic director, who resigned last year after piloting Bullet court teams for more than a quarter of a century.

Coach Davies faces an old enigma with his first cage squad—lack of height—but has eight lettermen remaining from last year's squad. However, the big point men of last year, Bill Snyder and Eddie Ferren, will be missing via graduation.

The Bullets have been drilling since November 1 although several candidates—Fred Alleva, Bill Ward, Art Hendley and Frank Capitani—were prevented from reporting until recently due to football.

Joe Bierly, 6-3; Dick Hockenbury, 6-3, and Al Teit, 6, are veterans who have been nominated by Coach Davies to take the court against the Blue Jays.

A pair of promising sophomores may draw the other assignments. Bob Wolsack, 6-2, of Newark, N. J., is scheduled to pair with Hockenbury at forward while Barclay Sell, 5-11, of West Lawn, or Wally Kullgowski, 6-3 vet, will team up with Teit at guard.

The Bullets held practice session here Monday evening with Camp Ritchie and won 86-71, but appeared slow at times. This is expected to be ironed out as the season progresses.

Elizabethtown comes here with one of its most promising teams in years. Last year the Blue Jays trounced the Bullets 98-82 and many of the lads who took part in that victory will again oppose the locals.

Blue Jays String
Heading the returnees are Sal Paoone, who averaged 15.3 points per game last season; Jim Chase, 6-4, former Chambersburg star, and Jim Sarbaugh.

Harvey Jacobs is the only starter of last year lost via graduation to the Blue Jays. Dick Shine, 6-4, is sidelined due to a ruptured disc.

Coach Don Smith has Bob Goudie and Mel Longenecker returning from last year's squad and is looking to Tony Acuri and Fred Noel who transferred from York Junior College, Bill Peshley, Ed Geiger, Glenn Peck and Sheldon Dent, freshmen, to provide the first line replacements.

Following Thursday's game the Bullets will be called upon to take on another stiff foe Saturday evening when Lebanon Valley's Flying Dutchmen will appear here.

The Lions and Rotary clubs will very likely follow their activity, engaged in last year, of the erection of a large electrically lighted Christmas tree in center square for the benefit of the entire community.

Hunters Throng Nearby Mountains As Deer Season Opens In State: Hundreds of deer hunters operating from scores of hunting camps that dot both slopes of the South Mountains tramped through the mountains Monday in quest of legal bucks as the deer season opened before daybreak today.

Up to late this afternoon only three kills had been reported. But many more had probably been shot, for at most of the hunting lodges the hunting parties had not returned from the initial chase.

The bucks were reported killed by Paul Kuehl who bagged his deer on the old Watson farm on the slopes of the South mountain near Fairfield: John McKendrick, Buchanan Valley, who killed his deer near his home, and the third was reported killed at the Kane camp near the Narrows.

Footprints Of Woman's Slipper Found At Scene Of Chicken Theft: Dainty footprints in the vicinity of the chicken house on the farm of Fred Troxell, Liberty township, tented by Raymond Mayer, today led state police to express the opinion that a feminine chicken thief is abroad in Adams County.

Mayer, who has had chickens stolen on previous occasions, lay in wait in the barn Sunday night for a possible return of the chicken thieves.

At 1:30 o'clock Mayer saw the shadowy figures of two persons approaching the chicken house. Mayer fired once with a shot gun in the direction of the pair, who immediately turned and fled.

Both persons wore long dark overcoats. Mayer told police. He was unable to recognize whether one of the would-be thieves was a woman, but small footprints in the soft ground near the chicken house led trooper J. K. Dula of the local state police substantiated to express the opinion that one of the thieves was a woman.

Today's Talk

All through our lives we are called upon to make decisions. All history is a recording of them. The United States of America owes its independence to fifty-six courageous colonists who prepared and signed the Declaration of Independence July 4th, 1776. Had they lost probably all would have been hung!

Henry Ford Sr. was a man of quick decisions, but he took a long time to change them, right or wrong. His high courage was often given the acid test, but he kept gaining power because of his faith in his own decisions. Lincoln made his decisions slowly, and after much thought and consultation, but in the end most of them turned out to be good.

Every youth has to make a decision as to his life work, and both his success and happiness depend upon that decision. It may be the most important of any he will be asked to render. Once made, however, many a hurdle in life will be courageously conquered. There is accumulated power gained from intelligent decisions.

Never in the history of the world were there such moments for grave decisions as confronted the leaders in America and Europe during two great world wars — and mighty decisions are yet to be made, on which war or peace may rest: Nothing can be so tragic as the thought of any war.

Patriotic blood must have flowed in torrents through the veins of Patrick Henry as he exclaimed: "Give me liberty, or give me death!" No decision worth anything can be made without the will and the courage to carry it out. That little word "No" gets plenty of exercise when decisions are to be made! Fear should have no place in their making. I like that line — from the Bible, I believe: "This one thing I do!"

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Goal"

Just Folks

I MUSTN'T FORGET
I mustn't forget that I'm gettin' old;
That's the worst thing ever a man can do.

I must keep in mind without bein' told
That old ideas must give way to new.

Let me be always upon my guard
Never a crabby old man to be.

Youth is too precious to have it marred
By the cranky whims of a man like me.

I must remember that customs change
An' I've had my youth an' my hair is gray.

Mustn't be too surprised at strange
Or startlin' things that the youngsters say.

Mustn't keep the bit in their mouths too tight.
Which is something old people are apt to do.

What used to be wrong, may today be right.
An' it may not be wrong just becoz it's new.

Want 'em to like me an' want 'em to know
That I need their laughter an' mirth an' song.

An' I want 'em near, coz I love 'em so.
An' home is the place where their smiles belong.

They're growin' up, and it seems so queer
To hear 'em talk of the views they hold.

But age with youth shouldn't interfere.
An' I mustn't forget that I'm gettin' old.

Three kinds of persons are responsible for the nation's traffic accidents—men, women and children.

They will be the target for the second observance of S-D Day on Thursday, sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety.

President Eisenhower has set this Safe Driving Day for Americans to prove that by their own efforts traffic accidents can be held to an absolute minimum for a 24-hour period.

The day is typically American, the committee said. Although officially sponsored by the President and his committee, its observance and all activities connected with it will be on a cooperative and volunteer basis.

Enforcement of traffic laws will not be given unusual emphasis for this special day. Instead, officials hope that arrests will be lower because of increased observance of safe driving practices.

Purpose of the day the committee said, is to increase awareness of the traffic accident problem and inspire drivers and pedestrians to assume their individual and personal responsibility for highway safety. They will be urged to:

1. Obey the letter and spirit of all traffic regulations by driving at speeds prescribed by law or indicated by road and weather conditions, by signaling turns and stops, by being extra alert and slowing at railroad crossings, and by crossing streets correctly at intersections.

2. Be courteous to all drivers and pedestrians, give a break to pedestrians and turning motorists, and to practice good sportsmanship by keeping to the right, staying in their own lane and avoiding unnecessary use of the horn.

3. Give full attention to driving and walking, practice the fundamentals of safe driving by keeping two hands on the wheel and attention on the road, keep windshields and windows clean and clear, and be alert to traffic conditions well ahead of and around their own cars.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Taneytown Fire Company met recently in the fire hall with 20 members in attendance.

The president named the following Social Committee for December: Chairman, Mrs. Harry Crouse; co-chairman, Mrs. Percy Putnam, Mabel Wanz, Mabel Smith, Carrie Austin, Margaret Scott, Kay Mohney, Jean Harmon, Margaret Angell, Naomi Dodder, Ruth Sauble, Hazel Lambert, Dotie Baker.

U. S. TRAINING WORTHLESS FOR GERMAN TEACHER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia's Common Pleas Court was told Monday the training a teacher receives here would be useless in Munich, Germany.

Francis D. Pastorius used that argument in an attempt to refute charges that Friederike Witte, 21-year-old junior at Penn State University, would return to her native Germany after receiving a teacher's degree.

Pastorius argued before Judges Raymond Mac Neille and Byron Milner on exceptions taken by him to a Sept. 6 ruling by Judge Mac Neille that Penn State has the legal right to charge a foreign-born alien "non-resident" tuition fees.

Is Exchange Student

The jurist had dismissed a test suit brought by Herman Witte of Philadelphia, seeking return of additional fees he paid for his niece, who came to this country in 1950 as a foreign exchange student.

Pastorius told the two judges that Miss Witte's testimony at previous hearings plainly indicated she had no intention of returning to Germany after she graduated from Penn State.

"Once they set up a university, that Miss Witte's testimony at previous hearings plainly indicated she had no intention of returning to Germany after she graduated from Penn State."

Pastorius said, "It must be available to all—citizen and alien alike."

Could Demand Education

Commented Judge Mac Neille: "That's a pretty broad statement. Aliens then could come in by the thousands and demand an education."

Jerome J. Shestack, attorney for Penn State trustees, asked the court to dismiss Pastorius' exceptions, declaring Judge Mac Neille's ruling had been correct.

Russians Homeless In Berwick Blaze

BERWICK, Pa. (AP) — A Russian immigrant family of seven was made homeless Monday night when fire swept through their house near here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kudsch fled the house along with their children, Rene, 10, Mary T. Anna, 5, Phyllis, 4, and Betty, 2. None of them was injured but firemen were unable to prevent total destruction of the house, mostly because of a lack of water nearby.

Weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Alexander were Miss Mary Louise Alexander, Washington, D. C.; Miss Dorothy Alexander, Baltimore, and Harmon Bickley, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Graham Wildasin has returned to the University of Maryland after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wildasin, and family.

Mrs. Emma Rodgers spent the weekend with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Hattie Brown, and other relatives in Hanover.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Reid visited on Sunday with Mrs. Virgie Pittenturf, Littlestown.

OFFICERS OF TANEYTOWN CC ELECTED

Merwyn Fuss was re-elected president of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Monday night in the firemen's hall. Others elected were: David Smith, vice president; Carroll Wantz, second vice president; Robert Feeser, secretary and Charles Arnold, treasurer.

Arch Carpenter, chairman of the Road Committee, reported that progress has been made on the proposed extension Route 340 from Frederick to York. He said that steps are being taken to form an organization known as the Roads Extension Committee and that a meeting has been scheduled with the State Road Commission in Baltimore on December 13.

The Chamber expressed its appreciation to the Taneytown High School PTA for preparing the food for the annual banquet held on November 17 at which 253 people were present and also to Joseph Jodi, instrumental music teacher and to Mrs. Meta Smith, choral music teacher, for their presentation of the program.

It was announced that the Christmas lights will be turned on Friday, December 9, at 7 p.m. At the same time Santa Claus will make his annual arrival in Taneytown. His arrival will be heralded by a band concert.

On Monday, December 19, at 7 p.m. the annual kiddies party will be held. A Christmas committee composed of Robert Feeser, chairman, Chris Bowers, Wallace Reindollar, Dr. Charles Hopkins, Robert Polley was elected to work with the extension committee to take charge of all the details.

The members also voted to offer the following prizes for the best outside decorated homes and grounds: First prize $25, second prize $10 and three prizes of $5 each. It was stipulated that these lights and decorations should be in place by homeowners by December 16. The judging will take place December 19.

Tells Rotarians Of Watchmaking

Paul A. Newland, assistant director of public relations of the Hamilton Watch Company, Lancaster, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Littlestown Rotary Club Tuesday evening at Schottie's Hotel. He spoke on watchmaking and the intricate mechanism involved and said that "a properly adjusted watch ticks 432,000 times per day."

Russell Brubaker, of the same company, showed a film on how a watch works. A question and answer period followed. Samuel H. Higginbotham, local jeweler and watch repairman, was a guest.

Visiting Rotarians were Earl Bowen, Gettysburg; Charles W. Ross, Frederick; Hugh McIlvaine, Bethlehem; Irvin Houck, Hanover; and Dr. L. N. Hitchcock, Westminster. The birthdays of the following members were noted: Dr. Donald B. Coover, William V. Sneeberger, Dr. Howard A. Stoner, P. Emory Weaver and Charles E. Rabenstein.

The club bulletin committee, Lloyd L. Staveland, chairman, will be in charge of the program at the meeting next Tuesday at 6:15 p.m.

Westinghouse, Union Negotiations Off

NEW YORK — Negotiations between the Westinghouse Electric Corp. and the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) have broken off and a federal mediator says he has no idea when talks will be resumed.

Mediator John R. Murray said company officials "walked out" on negotiations yesterday and returned to Pittsburgh after the union failed to go along with a back-to-work proposal.

Some 55,000 Westinghouse employees have been on strike at 40 plants since Oct. 17 and shortly thereafter.

Monmouth Park's $20,000 Lamp-lighter Handicap is named for one of the most famous horses ever to run at the track. In 1892 Lamp-lighter was entered in nine races and won them all.

CUB SCOUTS TO HOLD FOOD SALE

The Littlestown Cub Scouts will hold a food sale on Friday beginning at 3:30 p.m. in the engine house. Soup and sandwiches will be available in addition to the engine house. Soup and sandwiches will be available in addition to the usual candy and baked items. Donations are to be brought to the engine house by 3 p.m., or if desired donations will be picked up and orders delivered by notifying one of the den mothers. The Cubs will sell the sandwiches in the community. Cubs are asked to wear their neckerchieves while selling.

The local Explorer Post has announced its program for the next three months as follows: Jan. 21 and 22, motor tour, John Flynn, director; Dec. 30, winter Appalachian Trail hike, Tony Maitland, director; Dec. 10 and 11, camp out; Dec. 28, snow ball at Hotel Yorktown; Dec. 16 and Jan. 18, hockey games (Explorers planning on going to the first game are to pay 50 cents by Thursday); Dec. 8, Conewago District Christmas party. Indoor events, repair and clean-up of meeting room, Michael Cookson, director; Explorer manual training course, Lee Krout, director; court of awards and induction ceremony in February. Service projects, snow shoveling for elderly people of the community; manning the Ground Observation Post on Sundays. There will be a meeting of the Explorers on Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in the East King St. School.

Lt. A. Mosteller, of the Baltimore Filter Center, spoke at a meeting of the Littlestown spotters of the Ground Observation Post Monday evening in the engine house. He told of the ineffectiveness of the current radar system and of Operation Sagebrush conducted by the joint armed forces in Louisiana; also of the new device developed to jam radar and the necessity of the GOC spotters.

M/Sgt. Herbert Pennington showed a film entitled "Let's Face It" showing the detonation of the first H-bomb released in Nevada. The loyalty oath was administered to 24 members. Paul E. Hiltbrich Jr., chief observer, presided at the meeting.

TO GET STATE FUNDS
HARRISBURG — Payment of $3,426,612 to state municipalities for highway construction and maintenance was approved by the state Highways Department yesterday.

The funds, diverted from the state motor fund, are the eighth installment to be disbursed to the municipalities this year. It will be distributed to 50 cities, 306 boroughs, 69 first class townships and 1,448 second class townships.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

election contest petition must be filed within 20 days after the election, meaning in this instance no later than November 28. Our election code, as it should, requires that an election contest be started early, so that offices and the candidates many not be long in doubt as to the results. It would have been better to await the results of the present recount before filing the petitions, but this could not have been done under the law. The 20-day rule is an absolute one.

"Many people do not realize that the official count to be made by the county election board within a few days after the election does not involve a counting of the votes. It is principally confined to a review of the tally sheet and an examination of the ballots which were declared by the local election boards as invalid. In other words, the ballots which are counted as good for the various candidates are not examined or recounted by the county board of elections.

Fraud Not Alleged
"It was requested that the ballot boxes be opened because if the difficulty in differences in interpreting those ballots which are mutilated, erased, inadequately marked, excessively marked so as to possibly identify the voter, and the like. No fraud or deliberate misconstruing was alleged to have been done. Our local election boards have a difficult and somewhat thankless job to do, but they do it well and sometimes have to take all night after the closing of the polls in order to count, construe and interpret the ballots.

However, even lawyers honestly differ as to the construction of some badly or defectively marked ballots. More than this, cases have even reached the higher courts in which the judges disagree as to whether a mark can be called an X and whether a ballot is so marked that it must be rejected because it was made to identify its maker to those counting the ballots.

"In some past elections, as in the present one, information has come forth that some of our election boards are construing the ballots differently in some of these difficult respects. Without meaning to reflect in any way on the capacity and integrity of any election board, it was decided to open a number of the boxes to have a sample as to their construction of such ballots. Both parties must feel some doubt about this construction of the ballots because both parties have filed petitions to open ballot boxes in this election, $50 being deposited, as required, with each petition to open a box, so that there may be no cost to the county.

"Another reason for requesting the opening of ballot boxes is, of course, the closeness of the votes for several offices. The candidates and their supporters have the right to resort to the provisions of the law requesting a recount, and paying for its cost. If this is not right and proper, then our election law should be changed to deny this right. Of course, no candidate or party would normally start an election contest for a winning candidate. This year was the logical time to ask for one.

"I feel with many other people of both parties that this right to a recount is a good law, and that there is nothing wrong morally or otherwise to ask for it at this time. If the original count was correct, so as to make no change, the winning candidates should have nothing to fear. In the event it is determined that a number of ballots are so marked or mutilated that their interpretation or construction has been innocently but erroneously made, no one should object to a fair opening of the boxes and a fair recount thereof. It appears to me that this recount procedure will be wholesome to all of use who are interested in elections, regardless of our party. After the entire proceedings are concluded, I hope and believe that the results and the reasons for rulings on various questionable ballots will be of real assistance to all of our election boards and others interested in our election system.

"Again, as to the matter of filing the election contest petitions at this time, it had to be done no later than November 28. All of us must agree that it would be an unfortunate situation if the present recount were to show that some already declared defeated candidate had received the majority of the votes entitled to be counted, but could not be declared elected by reason of an election contest not being filed within the 20-day time limit."

26 Against Leader's Tax Bill Register For Public Hearing; 2 Seek To Offer Tax Defense

HARRISBURG (AP) — Spokesmen seeking to be heard against Gov. Leader's plan for a 3½ per cent manufacturers' excise tax outnumbered proponents by 13 to 1 Tuesday.

Chairman Kessler (R-Lancaster) of the Senate Finance Committee said only two persons have sought to testify in behalf of the tax bill at public hearings scheduled for today and Thursday.

They are Henry J. Leader, legislative secretary and brother to the governor, and Sen. Dent, Senate Democratic floor leader. "On the other hand," he said "we have had 26 requests from persons or groups who are opposed to the bill."

Several Firms Listed

The committee docket showed they ranged from private firms such as the Hammermill Bond Paper Co., Erie, and the Dixie Corp., Erie, to groups like the Pennsylvania Cannery Assn. and the Pennsylvania Assn. of Tobacco Distributors.

Senate Republicans contended they are maintaining an open mind on the excise tax until after the hearings are ended.

"We have not shut the door to the manufacturers' excise tax but are keeping an open mind until after the public hearings," said Sen. Mahany, Senate GOP leader.

Questions Open Mind

But Dent fired back during more than two hours of debate Monday night that he wanted to know if Sen. Taylor, Senate president pro tempore, maintained an open mind.

"I know the Democratic party will never get a tax program through until Sen. Taylor agrees to it," Dent told the senate. "How can you have an open mind when Harve Taylor says it's not going to pass?"

Taylor, opposing the excise tax and in favor of Republicans assuming sponsorship of a 2 per cent sales levy, didn't reply. But Sen. Pechan (R-Armstrong) took to the floor to say:

Issues Statement

"Sen. Taylor doesn't tell Sen. Pechan or Sen. Mahany how to vote nor threaten to kick us out of the caucus because of how we vote."

The governor himself issued a statement Monday night—his third in less than 12 hours on taxes—taking the position that Taylor's word was law in Senate Republican ranks.

"There is nothing official from a Republican source until it has been cleared by the Republican high potentate—Sen. Taylor, whose whim is law," the governor said. Taylor declined comment on this but in a statement earlier in the day said:

"Low-blow Tactics"

"Gov. Leader's personal attack on me is illustrative of the low-blow tactics he has adopted in an effort to keep the glare of publicity off his own administrative shortcomings."

"If I were playing politics with this tax program, I most certainly would encourage my Republican colleagues to vote for this horrible tax measure, knowing that it would boomerang on the Democratic writers who conceived it."

In another development, the Senate Rules Committee announced a public hearing will be held Friday on Leader's proposed government reorganization plans calling for the transfer of state examining boards dealing with professional standards.

Disagree On School Money

The boards, most of them now in the Public Instruction Department, would become part of the Department of State under the proposals.

The Senate Monday night also refused to go along with House amendments on a $66 million dollar appropriation for general school operations.

The refusal, on technical grounds was based on the fact that the tax impasse has reduced the state's financial position to the point where there isn't enough money in the treasury to pay 100 million dollars due to school districts in October and November.

House Gets Bill

The school appropriation bill went back to the House which meets today. The Democratic-controlled lower branch, however, isn't expected to act on it until a tax program is passed.

The House today also may receive a 3 per cent sales tax plan sponsored by Rep. Waterhouse (R-Erie). But the bill could gather dust in the Democratic-controlled House Ways and Means Committee unless the governor withdraws his flat opposition to the sales tax.

Waterhouse's announcement that he would submit the GOP-sponsored bill created a stir in the Legislature Monday since it coincided with Taylor's position.

Mahany, however, took the position that the Leader administration should share with Republicans any responsibility for a sales tax.

The governor declared that Republicans broke faith in pushing for a sales tax. Bipartisan tax compromise conferences prior to the November election, he said, were based on agreement that neither side would offer a sales or income tax as the solution.

Meanwhile, Dent disclosed Democrats are planning amendments providing for uniformity of federal income tax deductions in payment of the excise levy and to exempt newspapers from the tax.

Under his plan, firms purchasing big machinery from a Pennsylvania manufacturer could claim the tax as a deduction from federal income taxes just as it would if the purchase were made from an out-of-state firm.

Dent's proposal for exempting newspapers from the levy was coupled with an idea that the amendment should be drafted so that magazines brought from out of the state would remain subject to the tax.

The flurry of statements and counter-statements Monday was the heaviest in the 1955 Legislature which has seen employment of paid press agents by both Republicans and Democrats.

MILFORD MAN TRIES TO END SUIT BY MAIL

HARRISBURG (AP) — A Milford man was under indictment by a federal district grand jury Tuesday on charges of sending two threatening letters to another Pike County man.

The grand jury indicted John J. Fields III Monday on charges of extortion. The indictment charged Fields with sending the letters to Alfred T. Long in an effort to end a law suit brought by Long against Fields.

Other indictments handed up and the charges cited by the jury included:

Forgery, Non-Registration

Stella Helser, Sellersville, theft and forging endorsements of checks totaling $86; James G. Brown, East Stroudsburg, failure to register a war souvenir machine gun; Ronald K. Payne, escaping from the U. S. prison camp at Allenwood, Union County.

Robert W. Little, Indian Township, forging a government allotment check worth $137.19; James Robert Cook, Dover, theft from the mails of an auto title; James Sheller, Scranton, sending a number of indecent post cards to a Louisville, Ky., woman.

Mark L. Gilbert, Lewistown, stealing from the mails; Betty Louise Arnold, York, sending threatening letters; Carl T. Hess, Huntingdon, sending obscene letters through the mails; James H. Williams, Farrandville, Clinton County, illegally taking a government car and transporting it across state lines.

Illegal Transportation

Michael S. Eckert, illegally transporting a car across state lines; Harold Shives, Mt. Union, impersonating an FBI agent; Raymond L. Beyers, Mt. Union; theft of money order from mails and boosting value of the money order.

EXTON, Pa. (AP)—Employees of the Autocar Division of White Motor Co. ended an 18-day strike today after approving a three year contract that provides an average 8-cent-an-hour wage hike.

About 2 per cent of all school children need special training because they are mentally retarded.

Estimates Purchases Of Farm Equipment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rural Electrification Administration estimates that Pennsylvania farmers will buy 182 million dollars of electrical equipment between 1956 and 1960 and 214 million in the 1961-65 period.

The estimates, which are for all farmers whether served by REA or private utilities, are encouraging news for the coal industry.

The recent boosts in coal sales are due largely to increased demands of public utilities that are generating more and more electricity to meet stepped-up power needs.

OFFICERS OF TANEYTOWN CC ELECTED

Mervyn Fuss was re-elected president of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Monday night in the firemen's hall. Others elected were David Smith, vice president; Carroll Wartz, secretary; and Charles Arnold, treasurer.

Arch Carpenter, chairman of the Road Committee, reported that progress has been made on the proposed extension Route 340 from Frederick to York. He said that steps are being taken to form an organization known as the Roads Extension Committee and that a meeting has been scheduled with the State Road Commission in Baltimore on December 13.

The Chamber expressed its appreciation to the Taneytown High School PTA for preparing the food for the annual banquet held on November 17 at which 253 people were present and also to Joseph Jodi, instrumental music teacher and to Mrs. Meta Smith, choral music teacher for their presentation of the program.

It was announced that the Christmas lights will be turned on Friday, December 9, at 7 p.m. At the same time Santa Claus will make his annual arrival in Taneytown. His arrival will be heralded by a band concert.

On Monday, December 19 at 7 p.m. the annual kiddies party will be held. A Christmas committee composed of Robert Feese, chairman, Chris Bowers, Wallace Reinhold, Dr. Charles Hopkins, Robert Polley was elected to work with the extension committee to take charge of all the details.

The members also voted to offer the following prizes for the best outside decorated homes and grounds: First prize $25, second prize $10 and three prizes of $5 each. It was stipulated that these lights and decorations should be in place by homeowners by December 16. The judging will take place December 19.

Tells Rotarians Of Watchmaking

Paul A. Newland, assistant director of public relations of the Hamilton Watch Company, Lancaster, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Littlestown Rotary Club Tuesday evening at Schott's Hotel. He spoke on watchmaking and the intricate mechanism involved and said that a properly adjusted watch ticks 432,000 times per day.

Russell Brubaker, of the same company, showed a film on how a watch works. A question and answer period followed. Samuel H. Higinbotham, local jeweler and watch repairman was a guest. Visiting Rotarians were Earl Boxer, Gettysburg; Charles W. Ross, Frederick; Hugh McIlvann, Bethlehem; Irvin Houck, Hanover; and Dr. L. N. Hitchcock, Westminster. The birthdays of the following members were noted: Dr. Donald B. Coover, William V. Sneringer, Dr. Howard A. Stoner, P. Emory Weaver and Charles E. Raenestine.

The club bulletin committee, Lloyd L. Staveland, chairman, will be in charge of the program at the meeting next Tuesday at 6:15 p.m.

Westinghouse, Union Negotiations Off

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations between the Westinghouse Electric Corp. and the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) have broken off and a federal mediator says he has no idea when talks will be resumed.

Mediator John R. Murray said company officials "walked out" on negotiations yesterday and returned to Pittsburgh after the union failed to go along with a back-to-work proposal.

Some 55,000 Westinghouse employees have been on strike at 40 plants since Oct. 17 and shortly thereafter.

Monmouth Park's $20,000 Lamp-lighter Handicap is named for one of the most famous horses ever to run at the track. In 1892 Lamp-lighter was entered in nine races and won them all.

CUB SCOUTS TO HOLD FOOD SALE

The Littlestown Cub Scouts will hold a food sale on Friday beginning at 3:30 p.m. in the engine house. Soup and sandwiches will be available in addition to the engine house soup and sandwiches will be available in addition to the usual candy and baked items. Donations are to be brought to the engine house by 3 p.m., or if desired donations will be picked up and orders delivered by notifying one of the den mothers. The Cub Scouts will sell the sandwiches in the community. Cub Scouts are asked to wear their neckerchieves while selling.

The local Explorer Post has announced its program for the next three months as follows: Jan. 21 and 22, motor tour, John Flynn, director; Dec. 30, winter Appalachian trail hike, Tony Maltland, director; Dec. 10 and 11, camp out, Dec. 28, snow ball at Hotel Yorktown, Dec. 15 and Jan. 18, hockey games (Explorers planning on going to the first game are to pay 50 cents by Thursday); Dec. 8, Conewago District Christmas party. Indoor events, repair and clean-up of meeting room, Michael Cook, director; Explorer manual training course, Lee Kront, director; court of awards and induction ceremony in February. Service projects, snow shoveling for elderly people of the community, naming the Ground Observation Post on Sundays. There will be a meeting of the Explorers on Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in the East King St. School.

At a Mosteller, of the Baltimore Filter Center, spoke at a meeting of the Littlestown sports of the Ground Observation Post Monday evening in the engine house. He told of the ineffectiveness of the current radar system and of Operation Sagebrush conducted by the joint armed forces in Louisiana, also of the new device developed to jam radar and the necessity of the GOC spotters. M/Sgt. Herbert Pennington showed a film entitled "Let's Face It" showing the detonation of the first H-bomb released in Nevada. The loyalty oath was administered to 24 members. Paul E. Hiltz, brick Jr., chief observer, presided at the meeting.

TO GET STATE FUNDS
HARRISBURG (AP) — Payment of $3,426,612 to state municipalities for highway construction and maintenance was approved by the state Highways Department yesterday.

The funds, diverted from the state motor fund, are the eighth installment to be disbursed to the municipalities this year. It will be distributed to 50 cities, 866 boroughs, 69 first class townships and 1,448 second class townships.

election contest petition must be filed within 20 days after the election, meaning in this instance no later than November 28. Our election code, as it should, requires that an election contest be started early, so that offices and the candidates many not be long in doubt as to the results. It would have been better to await the results of the present recount before filing the petitions, but this could not have been done under the law. The 20-day rule is an absolute one.

Many people do not realize that the official count to be made by the county election board within a few days after the election does not involve a counting of the votes. It is principally confined to a review of the tally sheet and an examination of the ballots which were declared by the local election boards as invalid. In other words the ballots which are counted as good for the various candidates are not examined or recounted by the county board of elections.

Fraud Not Alleged
It was requested that the ballot boxes be opened because if the difficulty in differences in interpreting those ballots which are mutilated, erased, inadequately marked, excessively marked so as to possibly identify the voter and the like. No fraud or deliberate misconstruction was alleged to have been done. Our local election boards have a difficult and somewhat thankless job to do, but they do it well and sometimes have to take all night after the closing of the polls in order to count and interpret the ballots.

However, even lawyers honestly offer as to the construction of some badly or defectively marked ballots. More than this, cases have even reached the higher courts in which the judges disagree as to whether a mark can be called an X and whether a ballot is so marked that it must be rejected because it was made to identify its maker to those counting the ballots.

"In some past elections, as in the present one, information has come forth that some of our election boards are constructing the ballots differently in some of these difficult respects. Without meaning to reflect in any way on the capacity and integrity of any election board, it was decided to open a number of the boxes to have a sample as to their construction of such ballots. Both parties must feel some doubt about this construction of the ballots because both parties have filed petitions to open ballot boxes in this election, $50 being deposited, as required, with each petition to open a box, so that there may be no cost to the county.

"Another reason for requesting the opening of ballot boxes is, of course, the closeness of the votes for several offices. The candidates and their supporters have the right to resort to the provisions of the law requesting a recount, and paying for its cost. If this is not right and proper, then our election law should be changed to deny this right. Of course, no candidate or party would normally start an election contest for a winning candidate. This year was the logical time to ask for one.

"I feel with many other people of both parties that this right to a recount is a good law, and that there is nothing wrong morally or otherwise to ask for it at this time. If the original count was correct, so as to make no change, the winning candidates should have nothing to fear. In the event it is determined that a number of ballots are so marked or mutilated that their interpretation or construction has been innocently but erroneously made, no one should object to a fair opening of the boxes and a fair recount thereof. It appears to me that this recount procedure will be wholesome to all of use who are interested in elections, regardless of our party. After the entire proceedings are concluded, I hope and believe that the results and the reasons for rulings on various questionable ballots will be of real assistance to all of our election boards and others interested in our election system.

"Again, as to the matter of filing the election contest petitions at this time, it had to be done no later than November 28. All of us must agree that it would be an unfortunate situation if the present recount were to show that some already declared defeated candidate had received the majority of the votes entitled to be counted, but could not be declared elected by reason of an election contest not being filed within the 20-day time limit."

BRITAIN CALLS USSR 2-FACED; UNION PROTESTS

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union protested to Britain Tuesday against a foreign office spokesman's charge that Russian Premier Bulganin had expressed "hypocritical" views on German unification.

Charge d'Affaires N. D. Belokhovskiy called on Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick, permanent head of the Foreign Office, and complained that such expressions "are incompatible with the nature of the relations existing between our two countries."

Belokhovskiy's move was reported by the Soviet News Service which operates in London under the control of the Soviet embassy.

Matthews Comments

Matthews offered a point-by-point rebuttal to reporters of a speech made to the Indian Parliament in New Delhi by Bulganin.

ternal affairs of other nations and added German unity would best be achieved by the German people themselves.

Appear Hypocritical
Matthews ended his comment with the words:

"The views of Mr. Bulganin seem thoroughly hypocritical."

All of Matthews' comments—except the accusation of hypocrisy—had been authorized by the Foreign Office at a high level, an informed source said. They were volunteered at a daily news conference.

The "hypocritical" charge apparently embarrassed the Eden government which has invited Bulganin and Soviet Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev to come to Britain next spring. The Russians have accepted.

After Matthews' statement, Prime Minister Eden was reported to have called for an inquiry. Under the British system, statements regarding heads of foreign governments are made in Parliament by a responsible minister.

Will Preside
Monday, Sir George Young, head of the Foreign Office news department, announced that his first assistant, Anthony Moore, would in the future preside at news conferences. Matthews had attended to this function for about 10 years.

CONFERENCE ON EDUCATION IS OPENED BY IKE

By HERB ALTSCHULL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Nearly 2,000 delegates to the White House Conference on Education settled down Tuesday to three days of talk about pressing school needs after a send-off from President Eisenhower.

Eisenhower summed up both sides of the explosive controversy over federal aid to schools in an address recorded at Gettysburg, Pa., and put before the delegates in a sound film Monday night.

"If we depend too much on outside help, too much on the federal government, we will lose independence and initiative," he said.

"But if the federal government doesn't step in with leadership and with providing credit and money where necessary, there will be a lack of schools in certain important areas, and this cannot be allowed."

Solution Not Easy
He said he didn't expect the delegates to "find any easy solution" to the problems of education.

"But I do know this: when sensible Americans—men and women—sit down together to discuss a problem . . . something sensible comes out," he said.

Tuesday's opening session, like those remaining, involved group discussions at 180 tables, with 10 or 11 delegates at each table. Chairmen of each table group will get together to compare notes in a semifinal affair. Then they will select two chairmen who will draft a final report.

At Monday night's general session, Vice President Nixon told the delegates that "we should recognize . . . that some additional federal activity and responsibility is inevitable and necessary to the field of education," but he offered some reservations.

"Tragic Mistake"
"Any federal program which discourages or reduces the local or state contribution would be a tragic mistake . . ."

"We want our education to be free . . . Freedom and federal control are incompatible. There is no greater power that a government could exercise over a people than to be able to dictate what the young should learn."

This conference, first proposed by Eisenhower nearly two years ago, was set up to discuss school problems and propose solutions.

ACTRESS WELL AFTER ACCIDENT

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Nanette Fabray was knocked unconscious when hit on the head by a falling 75-pound scenery weight backstage at a television show Monday night.

Two doctors revived her in an ambulance on the way to Doctors Hospital.

Preliminary X-rays, it was reported, indicated there was no skull fracture or concussion. Doctors said Miss Fabray, 33, would be kept in the hospital several days for observation.

In Good Condition
A spokesman for NBC, which broadcasts the program of which Miss Fabray was injured, said Tuesday after checking the hospital that she was in good condition, was resting quietly and had slept well.

Miss Fabray, who plays comedian Sid Caesar's wife in the NBC TV show Caesar's Hour, was injured just after leaving the stage at the Century Theater a few minutes before the show ended.

Buster Brannon, Texas Christian basketball coach, is enthused over the present freshman team. "I can hardly wait until next year," says Brannon.

Car Skids On Ice Into Trailer Truck

DONEGAL, Pa. (AP)—An auto skidded and crashed into a stopped trailer truck on the ice-covered Pennsylvania Turnpike near the Donegal Interchange Tuesday and killed one person and injured five others.

Fatally injured was Mrs. Eunice Wolfe, 53, of White Plains, N. Y., an occupant in the car operated by Harold Carter, 40, of East Elmhurst, N. Y.

Carter, his wife, Ophelia, Miss Lucille Rich, 24, of New York; Miss Alberta Culbreath, 23, of R. 4, Norristown; and Miss Doris Chambers, 28, of Hastings, N. Y., all were injured, none seriously.

Wife Of Football Coach Kills Self

Wilkinson said Mrs. Jones' father, W. N. Teoche, found her with her jugular vein slashed with a razor blade. Mrs. Jones, who had

Her husband has been football coach at Shamokin High School since 1947. Before that he was football coach at nearby Windber High School two different times—from 1943 to 1944 and from 1946 to 1947.

Paper Boosts Price To Maintain Quality

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The price of a copy of the Johnstown Tribune-Democrat will be increased from five to seven cents, effective Thursday.

In announcing the increase, publisher Walter W. Krebs said the higher price is necessary "to maintain the quality of the Tribune-Democrat in the face of higher costs."

The newspaper, which has a circulation of some 63,000, has been selling for five cents a copy since October, 1947.

Russia Makes Eye For Eye Bargain

LONDON (AP)—Russia offered again Tuesday to stop testing nuclear weapons if the United States and Britain promise to quit also.

The offer, broadcast by the Moscow radio, came only three days after the Kremlin announced the Soviet Union had exploded its most powerful hydrogen bomb.

Both Britain and the United States plan to hold new tests next year.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Davis (R-Luzerne), the first Republican state senator to represent the 21st District since 1936, took the oath of office Monday in a brief ceremony attended by some 200 relatives and friends.

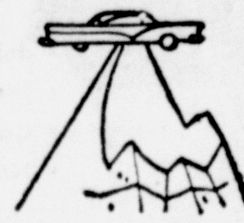

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission reported today that 20,567 vehicles used the 37-mile first stretch of the north eastern extension in the first five days of its operation.

NEW HOMES AND U.S. AID ARE BIG NATIONAL ISSUE

NEW YORK (AP)—The still lively demand of many Americans for a new house—and how much responsibility the government has to help them get one—is one of today's hottest questions.

Builders, mortgage lenders and government money managers are sharply divided on the causes of the current drop in the number of new homes being started—and whether the home-building industry needs a new shot in the arm through easier credit and lower interest rates.

And today a leading New York bank comes out flatly against government attempts to set or enforce "arbitrary standards of housing."

The Guaranty Trust Co. in its December survey asks what is really meant by such words as "substandard" housing, "decent" housing, "adequate" housing, or housing "needs."

Resolve Personal Question "Obviously," says the bank,

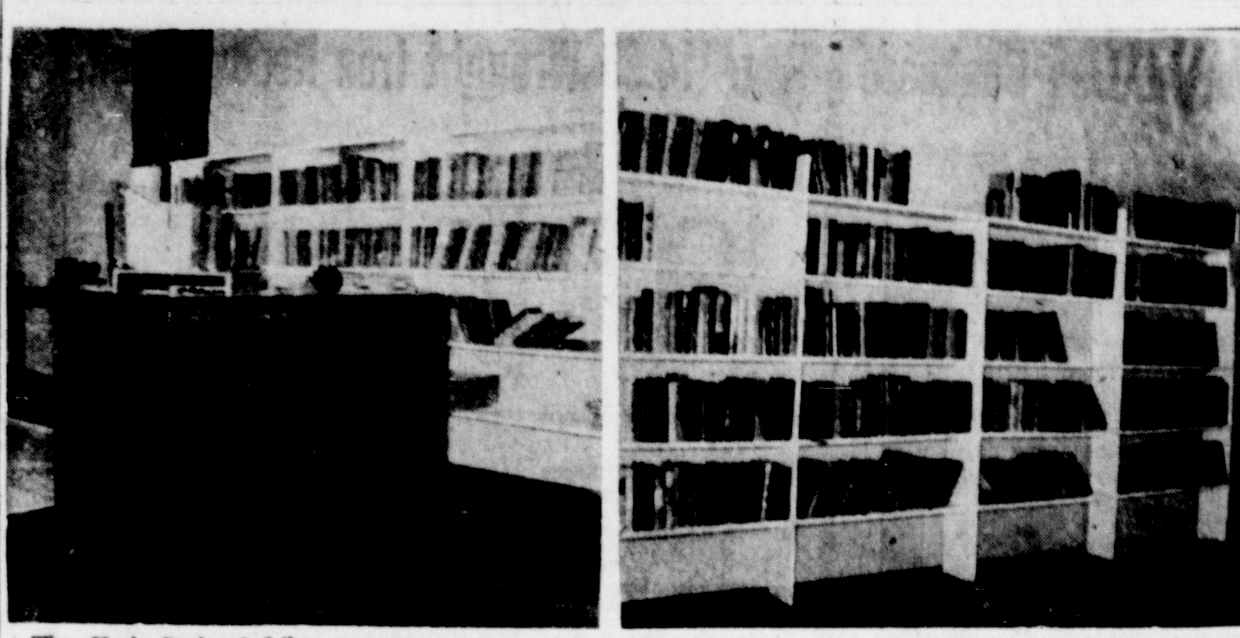

"they express someone's idea of the sort of living quarters the people ought to have. In practice, they usually express the idea or ideas arrived at by some public official or board appointed by a paternalistic government to resolve, in behalf of the people, a personal question which the people are apparently presumed to be incapable of resolving for themselves."

In a free economy, the bank holds, "adequate" housing should mean only "that quantity and quality of housing which users are able and willing to buy and pay for at free-market levels of cost, in view of the other possible ways of spending their money."

The bank contends that the government shouldn't tell people how they are to be housed any more than what food to eat or what clothing to wear.

The recent decline in home building, however, has brought concern in other quarters. Builders, naturally, don't like it. Many of them blame the slowing down on the government's policy of tightening mortgage payment rules, tightening the supply of credit, and letting interest rates rise.

The Department of Commerce, on the other hand, thinks the decline will be mild. It predicts that

The York Springs' Library, now housed in the former Post Office building on Main Street, culminated many years of civic planning with its formal opening recently. There was an "Open House," to which the public was invited. The library's new home climaxed nearly fifteen years of development and seven different locations, which saw it grow from a few volumes to a collection of more than 1,500 books.

It was started in 1941 through the efforts of the Mademoiselle Club. It has been supported solely by the club treasury through such benefits as card parties, food sales, rummage sales, and participation in parades.

almost as much will be spent next year as this on home building—around 16 billion dollars.

Weather Forecast

Extended forecast for Wednesday, Nov. 30, through Sunday, Dec. 4:

Eastern Pennsylvania, eastern New York and Midatlantic States: Temperature will average 8-10 degrees below normal, cold Wednesday moderating by Friday and Saturday but colder again Sunday, rain or snow about Saturday with snow flurries in interior of north at beginning of period and on Sunday.

Services and material have been donated by a number of York Springs residents who have contributed to the success of the project.

day, total precipitation 1/4-1/2 inch. Western Pennsylvania, western New York, Ohio and West Virginia: Temperature will average 6-8 degrees below normal. Cold Wednesday, somewhat warmer Thursday and Friday, turning colder Saturday and Sunday, snow flurries Wednesday and Sunday and rain or snow Saturday, total precipitation around 1/4 inch.

FLOORED BY WOMAN

MONTREAL (AP)—George Warrington, 21, was sentenced on a charge of assault after his 18-year-old wife testified he came home drunk, ripped out the telephone, punched their 3-month-old baby and threatened to kill everyone in the house. She said the threats ended when Warrington's mother-in-law floored him with a blow to the head.

LORD'S ACRE PROVIDES

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Twenty men swarmed into the Lord's Acre—a 30-acre cornfield—for the harvest. The harvesting crew was from the Lockbourne Methodist Church, but the project on which they were working was only typical of a movement which has spread throughout the Midwest in recent summers.

The Lockbourne Methodists, working with donated seed corn and gasoline for their tractors, planted the 30 acres last spring. The harvest meant money to pay for church repairs and redecoration.

Next year it'll be 70 acres. Dwight D. Eisenhower is the first U. S. President to hold an airplane pilot's license.

SAYS LEADER APPOINTEE HAS "BAD" RECORD

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Mahany, Senate Republican floor leader, says he is seeking to prove that one of Gov. Leader's proposed appointments to a minor state board has a criminal record.

That's the reason, he told the Senate last night. Senate Republicans are holding up confirmation of some 180 of Leader's nominations for state posts.

"I understand that one of two people who have been sent over here for confirmation have criminal records and we are investigating the matter," Mahany asserted.

Sen. Dent, Senate Democratic floor leader who attributed the confirmation holdup to political reasons, immediately challenged Mahany to produce the names of the individuals who may have been criminals.

"Does he (Mahany) realize what he is doing to 182 persons who are members of this great state of ours?" asked Dent. "He is casting over their heads the charge that any of them are the criminals he talks about."

Mahany later apologized for his remarks if they meant that all of Leader's appointees "might be under a cloud."

The debate started when Mahany asked Dent to back up charges that the Senate GOP was bottling up confirmations of persons who might be able to unveil instances of illegal tax rebates in previous GOP administrations.

"The senator (Dent) always makes charges and then he tries to scramble back on something else," said Mahany. "Now he has made a serious charge here about us holding up confirmations of people who might investigate tax rebates."

Dent wouldn't name any specific persons but continued to press his claim that Senate Republicans were blocking for political reasons confirmation of appointments made as long as last January.

"It's like a conquered army asking the right to keep its officers over the men of the victors," said Dent. "The vanquished demand that they run the show."

LITTLESTOWN: Officers will be elected at the December meeting of the Carroll-Adams Riding Club Thursday at 8 p.m. in the clubhouse at "Sunset Hill Farm," near town. The refreshment committee includes Charles Humes, Raymond Flickinger and Mrs. Nathaniel Knowles.

Representatives of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Ocker-Snyder American Legion Post will attend the quarterly meeting of the Four County Council Auxiliaries Thursday in Hanover. Mrs. Ernest R. Sents is the delegate from the local unit. The annual Christmas party will exchange of gifts will be featured at the meeting.

The Citizenship Committee, Harry T. Harner and William S. Menges, will be in charge of the program at the meeting of the Littlestown Lions Club Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in St. John's Lutheran Church social hall. The annual Christmas party will be featured at the next meeting on Dec. 15.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Bart's EUB Church will hold its annual Christmas party Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the church hall. Rev. A. W. Garvin will show films entitled "Nativity" and "The Night Before Christmas." The program will be in charge of Mrs. A. W. Garvin. Hostesses will be Mrs. William Beachtel and Miss Kathryn Karich.

The Littlestown Homemakers met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Wade D. Brown, near town. Mrs. Brown demonstrated the making of unbaked fruit cakes. Recipes were exchanged. Plans were made to hold a Christmas party on a date to be announced. Members of the club will attend a meeting of the Adams County Homemakers on Friday, Dec. 30, 1:30 p.m. at the YWCA, Gettysburg.

NEW YORK (AP)—A woman psychologist, Dr. Joyce Brothers of New York City, has reached the halfway point on The $64,000 Question television and radio show.

Dr. Brothers, 28, named New Orleans as the site of two world championships and one American title fight in three days in 1892. She gave these contestants, winners and weight divisions for the fights: James J. Corbett knocked out John L. Sullivan for the heavyweight crown; Jack McAuliffe knocked out Billy Myer in the lightweight class; and George Dixon beat Jack Skelly, featherweight.

She can try for the grand prize next Tuesday night.

Steven Frohlich, 39, a Czech immigrant who is in the seed business in Princeton, N. J., settled for his previous $32,000 winnings in his American history category last night and quit.

Cunninghams Search For 20th Child's Name

YORK, Pa. (AP)—The Spurgeon Cunninghams are looking for a name for their 20th child.

The latest, a boy, arrived Monday at York Hospital. Of the Cunninghams' 11 boys and nine girls, four are married and 15 live at home. The oldest is 26. Mrs. Cunningham, 42, has had all her children by single birth.

Cunningham is a York factory foreman and operates a small farm at his nearby Hellam home.

BRITAIN CALLS USSR 2-FACED; UNION PROTESTS

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union protested to Britain Tuesday against a foreign office spokesman's charge that Russian Premier Bulganin had expressed "hypocritical" views on German unification.

Charge d'Affaires N. D. Belokhovskov called on Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick, permanent head of the Foreign Office and complained that such expressions "are incompatible with the nature of the relations existing between our two countries."

Belokhovskov's move was reported by the Soviet News Service which operates in London under the control of the Soviet embassy.

Matthews Comments
The incident was touched off by a comment made Nov. 22 by Peter Matthews, one of the spokesmen in the Foreign Office news department.

Matthews offered a point-by-point rebuttal to reporters of a speech made to the Indian Parliament in New Delhi by Bulganin.

In his speech the Soviet leader claimed Russian foreign policy was based on noninterference in the internal affairs of other nations and added German unity would best be achieved by the German people themselves.

Appear Hypocritical
Matthews ended his comment with the words:

"The views of Mr. Bulganin seem thoroughly hypocritical."

All of Matthews' comments—except the accusation of hypocrisy—had been authorized by the Foreign Office at a high level, an informed source said. They were volunteered at a daily news conference.

The "hypocritical" charge apparently embarrassed the Eden government which has invited Bulganin and Soviet Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev to come to Britain next spring. The Russians have accepted.

After Matthews' statement, Prime Minister Eden was reported to have called for an inquiry. Under the British system, statements regarding heads of foreign governments are made in Parliament by a responsible minister.

Will Preside
Monday, Sir George Young, head of the Foreign Office news department, announced that his first assistant, Anthony Moore, would in the future preside at news conferences. Matthews had attended to this function for about 10 years.

CONFERENCE ON EDUCATION IS OPENED BY IKE

By HERB ALTSCHULL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Nearly 2,000 delegates to the White House Conference on Education settled down Tuesday to three days of talk about pressing school needs after a send-off from President Eisenhower.

Eisenhower summed up both sides of the explosive controversy over federal aid to schools in an address recorded at Gettysburg, Pa., and put before the delegates in a sound film Monday night.

If we depend too much on outside help, too much on the federal government, we will lose independence and initiative," he said.

"But if the federal government doesn't step in with leadership and with providing credit and money, where necessary there will be a lack of schools in certain important areas, and this cannot be allowed."

Solution Not Easy
He said he didn't expect the delegates to "find any easy solutions" to the problems of education.

able Americans—men and women—sit down together to discuss a problem... something sensible comes out," he said.

Tuesday's opening session, like those remaining, involved group discussions at 180 tables, with 10 or 11 delegates at each table.

Chairmen of each table group will get together to compare notes in a semidaily affair. Then they will select two chairmen who will draft a final report.

At Monday night's general session, Vice President Nixon told the delegates that "we should recognize... that some additional federal activity and responsibility is inevitable and necessary to the field of education," but he offered some reservations.

"Tragic Mistake"
"Any federal program which discourages or reduces the local or state contribution would be a tragic mistake."

"We want our education to be free. Freedom and federal control are incompatible. There is a greater power that a government could exercise over a people than to be able to dictate what the young should learn."

This conference, first proposed by Eisenhower nearly two years ago, was set up to discuss school problems and propose solutions.

ACTRESS WELL AFTER ACCIDENT

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Nanette Fabray was knocked unconscious when hit on the head by a falling 75-pound scenery eight backstage at a television show Monday night.

Two doctors revived her in an ambulance on the way to Doctors Hospital.

Preliminary X-rays it was reported, indicated there was no skull fracture or concussion. Doctors said Miss Fabray, 33, would be kept in the hospital several days for observation.

In Good Condition
A spokesman for NBC which broadcasts the program of which Miss Fabray was injured said Tuesday after checking the hospital, that she was in good condition, was resting quietly and had slept well.

Miss Fabray who plays comedian Sid Caesar's wife in the NBC TV show Caesar's Hour, was injured just after leaving the stage at the Century Theater a few minutes before the show ended.

Car Skids On Ice Into Trailer Truck

DONEGAL, Pa. (AP)—An auto skidded and crashed into a stopped trailer truck on the ice-covered Pennsylvania Turnpike near the Donegal Interchange Tuesday and killed one person and injured five others.

Fatally injured was Mrs. Eunice Wolfe, 53, of White Plains, N. Y., an occupant in the car operated by Harold Carter, 40, of East Elmhurst, N. Y.

Carter, his wife, Ophelia, Miss Lucille Rich, 24, of New York; Miss Alberta Culbreath, 23, of E. 4, Norristown, and Miss Doris Chambers, 28, of Hastings, N. Y., all were injured, none seriously.

Leo Calabrese, 39, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., the driver of the truck, was not hurt.

Wife Of Football Coach Kills Self

Wilkinson said Mrs. Jones' father, W. N. Teoche, found her with her jugular vein slashed with a razor blade. Mrs. Jones, who had been visiting her father, was in poor health, the deputy coroner said.

Her husband has been football coach at Shamokin High School since 1947. Before that he was football coach at nearby Windber High School two different times—from 1943 to 1944 and from 1946 to 1947.

Paper Boosts Price To Maintain Quality

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The price of a copy of the Johnstown Tribune-Democrat will be increased from five to seven cents, effective Thursday.

"In announcing the increase, publisher Walter W. Krebs said the higher price is necessary 'to maintain the quality of the Tribune-Democrat in the face of higher costs'."

The newspaper, which has a circulation of some 63,000, has been selling for five cents a copy since October, 1947.

Russia Makes Eye For Eye Bargain

LONDON (AP)—Russia offered again Tuesday to stop testing nuclear weapons if the United States and Britain promise to quit also.

The offer, broadcast by the Moscow radio, came only three days after the Kremlin announced the Soviet Union had exploded its most powerful hydrogen bomb.

Both Britain and the United States plan to hold new tests next year.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Davis (R-Luzerne), the first Republican state senator to represent the 21st District since 1936 took the oath of office Monday in a brief ceremony attended by some 200 relatives and friends.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission reported today that 20,567 vehicles used the 37-mile first stretch of the north eastern extension in the first five days of its operation.

Nearly 31,000 Killed On Highways In Ten Months

CHICAGO (U)—Nearly 31,000 Americans were killed on highways in the first 10 months of this year—a 7 per cent increase over the same period in 1954.

The National Safety Council hopes the high traffic death toll will drive home to all motorists the necessity of driving carefully tomorrow, Safe Driving Day, and every day.

The council released its tabulation of traffic deaths for October and the first 10 months of 1955 today to underscore the need for S-D Day, a 24-hour period sponsored by President Eisenhower's Committee for Traffic Safety when Americans are asked to make an extra effort to drive and walk safely.

Tomorrow's event will be the second observance of S-D Day. Traffic experts figured the first S-D Day, last Dec. 15, cut down accidents somewhat. Fifty-one persons were fatally injured on the highways that day.

The safety council issued these figures on the eve of S-D Day:

From Jan. 1 through Oct. 31, 1955, 30,980 persons were killed in traffic accidents. This is an average of 111 deaths a day. But since it includes persons killed on holidays, when more motorists are on the highways, and those who die from injuries after accidents, a count on any one day like tomorrow probably would not approach that 111 figure.

The traffic death toll for October was 3,920—up 12 per cent over October 1954 and the largest toll for any one month since the record high month of December 1941.

Ned H. Dearborn, safety council president, connected these figures with the necessity for S-D Day.

"If anyone thinks S-D Day is just a lot of shouting about nothing, stop and think about these figures," he said. "S-D Day is a one-day effort to wake people up. The auto is here to stay, but I have my doubts about a lot of drivers if they keep up this flagrant lack of responsibility on the highways."

The council said there was slight consolation in the fact that travel is increasing even more than deaths. Deaths per 100 million miles of travel dropped to six for the first nine months of the year, a new low.

CHINA TO VETO MONGOLIA IN U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (U)—Nationalist China has informed the Latin American republics it will veto Outer Mongolia's application for U.N. membership, it was reported Tuesday. This would kill a plan to admit 18 new members at this session of the Assembly.

A diplomatic source at the U.N. said the Nationalist Chinese minister in each Latin American capital had visited the Foreign Office and informed the foreign minister of Chiang Kai-shek's decision.

The Nationalist Chinese delegation here has said it has no instructions on the membership question. The Chinese some years ago said they would veto Outer Mongolia in the Security Council. But this was before the membership issue appeared near a solution and more than two-thirds of the U.N. Assembly favored admission of all 18 applicants.

Waitress, Chef Face Penalty In Murder

MAYS LANDING, N.J. (U)—A red-haired waitress and a chef face possible maximum penalties of 30 years in prison on their pleas of no defense to second degree murder in the death of theater manager Fred Irvin.

The pleas were entered yesterday by Mrs. Lynette Beasley, 28, of Atlantic City, and Harry Kapordelis, 30, formerly of Wilmington, Del.

TEEN-AGE BANK LOANS WORK IN SHENANDOAH

SHENANDOAH, Pa. (U)—A bank's committee on small loans composed of only teen-agers has been functioning for six months, and "with amazing business acumen," at the Miners National Bank in this central Pennsylvania hard coal community.

The Teen-age Confidence Fund was set up last May as the bank's contribution to the battle against juvenile delinquency.

And it's worked out better than the most optimistic of its backers ever expected.

Believing that lack of ready cash for a teen-ager's legitimate needs was a major cause of juvenile crime, officials at Miners National set aside a $1,000 fund for loans of $5 to $50 to high school students needing money for worthwhile purposes.

Bank Adviser An independent committee of students, with a bank official acting strictly in the role of adviser, was set up to decide which loans would be granted. A $10 loan runs eight weeks and the total interest charge is 50 cents. The $50 maximum runs 24 weeks at a cost of $1.50.

P. H. Burke, president of the bank, says a recent check showed 48 loans were requested of which 42 were approved in whole or in part.

And not a single one has ever been defaulted.

Burke says he is not surprised that the youngsters justified the bank's confidence in them. But what amazed him, he said, is the "amazing business acumen" revealed by the committee in considering the applications.

Bank $25 Swim Suit

For instance, the committee rejected a girl's application for a $25 loan to buy a bathing suit, recommending she could swim just as well in a suit that cost $10.

Loans were approved to cover graduation expenses, dues for a school picnic and even a wedding present for a sister bride-to-be—although Patsy did agree that her sister would love her just as much if she received a $10 gift instead of the $40 present Patsy had in mind.

Arrests Teacher To Raise Niece's Marks

BUENOS AIRES (U)—Abraham Kriklavim, undersecretary of the interior minister during the Peron regime, had a unique method of raising his niece's marks in school. He ordered her teacher arrested.

This came to light Tuesday when a judge of the new Argentine provisional government ordered Kriklavim tried for "illegal privation of freedom." Kriklavim is believed to be in Havana now.

The charge against Kriklavim said when he learned his niece got a low grade in high school, he summoned her teacher, Felipe Pin Errecalde de Garate, and asked that it be changed. The teacher refused and he ordered her arrest Sept. 16, 1953. A month later he ordered the teacher arrested again. Both times she was held several hours in jail.

PHONY GERMAN REPUBLIC SAYS FREED SENATOR

NAPLES, Italy (U)—Rep. Edward P. Boland (D-Mass.) said Tuesday that his weekend brush with the Communists in East Berlin convinced him of "Soviet predominance over the phony German Democratic Republic."

Boland arrived by plane last night from Frankfurt after he, Rep. Harold C. Ostertag (R-NY) and Mrs. Ostertag had been held by Red German police in East Berlin for four hours.

Boland said the case of his detention now is in the hands of the U. S. Army headquarters at Heidelberg and that he did not intend to bring it before Congress. Maj. Gen. Charles L. Dasher Jr., U. S. commandant in Berlin, is handling a strong protest to the Russians over the incident, which Allied officials considered might signal a move to wipe out special Allied rights in the four-power city's Soviet sector.

Briefed By Officials

Ostertag, a member of the House Defense Appropriations Committee, spent Tuesday at Heildersberg, Germany, where he was briefed by officers at U. S. Army European headquarters.

He said on his arrival from Berlin that there was more to the East Berlin incident "than appeared on the surface."

CLAIMS BRITAIN, USSR SEEKING ISRAELI DEATH

JERUSALEM, Israel (U)—Premier David Ben-Gurion accused Britain and Russia Tuesday of pursuing policies "liable to bring about the destruction of the state of Israel."

He claimed in Parliament that arms supplied to Egypt by Britain and Russia "will be used only against Israel."

He said Egypt's goal is "the annihilation of Israel" and added, "Both Britain and the Soviet Union are aware of Col. Nasser's political aims."

Open Mortar Duel

An Israeli army spokesman said Tuesday a heavy Israel-Egyptian mortar duel broke out Monday between Egyptian outposts in the Gaza strip and Israeli positions on this side of the border.

Egyptian mortars directing their shells into the Kissufim area, about midway along the Gaza Strip armistice line, were silenced by heavy Israel mortars, he said.

The spokesman also claimed Egyptian soldiers penetrated across the border near Kissufim and opened automatic fire at an Israel patrol which replied and forced the Egyptians to retreat.

Another Egyptian position in the Gaza Strip opened fire across the border at an Israel patrol near Nahal Oz, but this fire was not returned, the spokesman said.

Ben-Gurion made his statement in reply to a Communist motion for a foreign affairs debate to protect an interview the premier—who also is Israel's defense minister—gave last week to a correspondent of the London Observer.

The Communist motion was defeated.

FBI Cuffs Robber Of Security Bank

BOSTON (U)—The FBI has identified a prisoner detained at Suffolk County Jail here as the robber who held up Washington's Security Bank and fled with $1,178 last May 31.

Special Agent E. J. Powers said last night that fingerprints show George Santos, arrested here on Nov. 18 for breaking and entering at night, really is John Gomez Jones, 35, of Steelton, Pa., wanted for the capital bank robbery.

Powers, in charge of the Boston FBI office, said a federal detainer has been filed to hold Jones for the Washington crime.

BILL TO RETAIN ASSEMBLY SEAT OFFERED HOUSE

HARRISBURG (U)—State legislators would be allowed to serve as city officials under two bills before the Senate.

The bipartisan sponsored measures, introduced Monday night, would amend existing law to permit legislators to serve out their state office terms after being elected members of a city council.

The proposals, sponsored by Sens. Taylor (R-Dauphin) and Dent (D-Westmoreland), would assure continued state service for four representatives elected to city posts at the Nov. 8 election.

They are Reps. Kubachi (D-Berks), elected councilman in Reading; Yetzer (D-Berks), elected Berks County sheriff; Hamilton (R-Phila.), elected councilman in the Quaker City; and Ziegler (R-Dauphin), elected mayor of Harrisburg.

SCRIBE HINTS FOREIGN POLICY BREW IN 1956

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—If the English language had a mother and father they'd probably cry at what happens when the politicians of both parties start throwing their baby around.

Secretary of State Dulles, whose handling of foreign policy will be one of the Democrats' targets in the presidential campaign, wants foreign policy criticism—if any—to be "constructive."

The Democrats and Dulles may run into a little difficulty seeing eye to eye on what is "constructive."

And Adlai Stevenson, who thought he was putting his best foot forward in starting his drive for the presidency on a note of "moderation," suddenly discovered that a couple of very prominent Democrats abhor the word.

In the 1952 campaign Dulles may have thought he was "constructive" with his blasts at the Democrats' foreign policy. They didn't seem to think so at the time and may even throw some of his 1952 speeches back at him in 1956.

Cites Dulles In 1952
In 1952 he said, "We should create crises for Russia instead of Russia creating crises for us." He's been secretary since 1953 but this country has created no crises for Russia.

In 1952 he said many nations feared the United States "may rashly precipitate atomic war."

fare." But Dulles, as secretary, reportedly gave American allies the jitters when he talked of "massive retaliation" against the Reds.

In 1952 he proposed a plan to "disintegrate the empire of Soviet Russia" from within. How? By "passive resistance, slowdowns and noncooperation" in the satellites.

This got such a bad reaction—to some Dulles seemed to be urging the unarmed satellite people to revolt against their Communist masters—that a few days later he said he meant only there were "peaceful ways" to do the job.

But in the years since Dulles became secretary, the satellites are just as firmly satellites as before.

It was in his Nov. 19 speech, outlining his program if elected president, that Stevenson said, "Moderation is the spirit of the times."

He added that moderation must not be confused with stagnation.

This didn't sit well with New York's Gov. Averell Harriman, who insists he's not actively seeking the Democratic presidential nomination although he has made so many speeches lately that some people are unconvinced.

He told a news conference—the day after Stevenson's speech—there is no such word as "moderation" in the Democratic party. It is not known whether Harriman looked up the word before he used it.

But the American College Dictionary says of "moderation": quality of being moderate, restraint; avoidance of extremes; temperance.

If Harriman doesn't want to be considered moderate, he can hardly want to be considered the opposite, which is immoderate. The dictionary says of "immoderation": exceeding just or reasonable limits; excessive; extreme.

Although Harriman hasn't said anything so far that makes any program he has look much different from Stevenson's, he nevertheless got a lot of publicity mileage out of his criticism.

Then Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams got in on the act. He said: "It is upsetting now to hear from our side counsels for a pause for breath-taking and moderation."

But so far he hasn't offered anything very startling either.

WOMEN GAB, HOUSEBURNS

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Cletus Bentz saw smoke puffing from her neighbor's farm home yesterday and called the volunteer fire department at New Salem, a mile away.

"I'm sorry," she was told, "but all the firemen have gone hunt-

Hunt For Baby And 'Fed Up' Husband

HARRISBURG (AP)—A worried wife and mother asked police Tuesday to help in the search for her missing husband and their 9-month-old daughter.

Mrs. Emmett Cecil Kent told police that her husband left their cramped attic quarters at nearby New Cumberland Sunday night and took the baby, Florence Rochelle, with him after he became "fed up" with troubles.

Mrs. Kent said the child was suffering from a cold and that her husband also was ill from ulcers and a collapsed lung. She said Kent has considerable trouble working because of his health.

The family came to New Cumberland two weeks ago from Mount Carmel. Kent obtained employment in a Harrisburg repair shop.

Kent was described as 6-foot-1, 165 pounds with light brown wavy hair and brown eyes.

STEAL MARSHAL'S DOG

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The motorist who is believed to have picked up a small white setter dog near Fairland is apt to be in for a lot of trouble if he is caught.

The 2-year-old animal belonged to Deputy U. S. Marshal Preston Warren of Tulsa. Warren's hunting companions at the time were U. S. Dist. Judge Royce H. Savage, Tulsa County Sheriff Glenn Brown and Ottawa County Sheriff Ben Stanley.

BAD PROGRAMS, COMMERCIALS
NEW YORK (AP)—FCC Chairman George C. McConaughy says the television industry should do something about bad taste in programs and prolonged commercials. In an address prepared for the Sylvania Television Awards Dinner, he said the Federal Communications Commission cannot censor program content. Therefore, he said, it's up to the industry.

ing." (Pennsylvania's deer season opened Monday.)

Mrs. Bentz's call had been taken by Harry Noss, who runs a gas station in New Salem and also takes all the calls for the volunteer firemen.

Noss figured he'd have to get somebody to the fire, so he tried to call the volunteer unit in Jacobus, six miles distant. But two women were talking on his 10-party line and refused to give it up, he said. Noss waited a bit, then tried again. The women were still talking and still in no mood to stop.

After another wait, this one lasting over 10 minutes, he got through to West York, also six miles away.

Nearly 31,000 Killed On Highways In Ten Months

CHICAGO (AP) — Nearly 31,000 Americans were killed on highways in the first 10 months of this year—a 7 per cent increase over the same period in 1954.

The National Safety Council hopes the high traffic death toll will drive home to all motorists the necessity of driving carefully tomorrow, Safe Driving Day, and every day.

The council released its tabulation of traffic deaths for October and the first 10 months of 1955 today to underscore the need for S-D Day, a 24-hour period sponsored by President Eisenhower's Committee for Traffic Safety when Americans are asked to make an extra effort to drive and walk safely.

just a lot of shouting about nothing, stop and think about these figures," he said. "S-D Day is a one-day effort to wake people up. The auto is here to stay, but I have my doubts about a lot of drivers if they keep up this flagrant lack of responsibility on the highways."

The council said there was slight consolation in the fact that travel is increasing even more than deaths. Deaths per 100 million miles of travel dropped to six for the first nine months of the year, a new low.

CHINA TO VETO MONGOLIA IN U.N.

TOMORROW'S event will be the second observance of S-D Day. Traffic experts figured the first S-D Day, last Dec. 15, cut down accidents somewhat. Fifty-one persons were fatally injured on the highways that day.

The safety council issued these figures on the eve of S-D Day: From Jan. 1 through Oct. 31, 1955, 30,980 persons were killed in traffic accidents. This is an average of 111 deaths a day. But since it includes persons killed on holidays, when more motorists are on the highways, and those who die from injuries after accidents, a count on any one day like tomorrow probably would not approach that 111 figure.

The traffic death toll for October was 3,920—up 12 per cent over October 1954 and the largest toll for any one month since the record high month of December 1941.

Ned H. Dearborn, safety council president, connected these figures with the necessity for S-D Day. "If anyone thinks S-D Day is

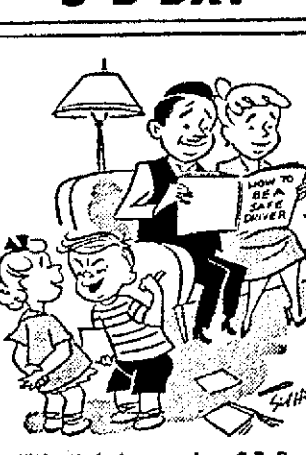

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Nationalist China has informed the Latin American republics it will veto Outer Mongolia's application for U.N. membership. This would kill a plan to admit 18 new members at this session of the Assembly.

A diplomatic source at the U.N. said the Nationalist Chinese minister in each Latin American capital had visited the Foreign Office and informed the foreign minister of Chiang Kai-shek's decision.

The Nationalist Chinese delegation here has said it has no instructions on the membership question. The Chinese some years ago said they would veto Outer Mongolia in the Security Council. But this was before the membership issue appeared near a solution and more than two-thirds of the U.N. Assembly favored admission of all 18 applicants.

Waitress, Chef Face Penalty In Murder

MAYS LANDING, N.J. (AP)—A red-haired waitress and a chef face possible maximum penalties of 30 years in prison on their pleas of no defense to second degree murder in the death of theater manager Fred Irvin.

The pleas were entered yesterday by Mrs. Lynette Beasley, 28, of Atlantic City, and Harry Kapordellis, 30, formerly of Wilmington, Del.

TEEN-AGE BANK LOANS WORK IN SHENANDOAH

SHENANDOAH, Pa. (AP)—A bank's committee on small loans composed of only teen-agers has been functioning for six months, and "with amazing business acumen," at the Miners National Bank in this central Pennsylvania hard coal community.

The Teen-age Confidence Fund was set up last May as the bank's contribution to the battle against juvenile delinquency.

And it's worked out better than the most optimistic of its backers ever expected.

Believing that lack of ready cash for a teen-ager's legitimate needs was a major cause of juvenile crime, officials at Miners National set aside a $1,000 fund for loans of $5 to $50 to high school students needing money for worthwhile purposes.

Bank Adviser An independent committee of students, with a bank official acting strictly in the role of adviser, was set up to decide which loans would be granted. A $10 loan runs eight weeks and the total interest charge is 50 cents. The $50 maximum runs 24 weeks at a cost of $1.50.

P. H. Burke, president of the bank, says a recent check showed 48 loans were requested of which 42 were approved in whole or in part.

And not a single one has ever been defaulted.

Burke says he is not surprised that the youngsters justified the bank's confidence in them. But what amazed him, he said, is the "amazing business acumen" revealed by the committee in considering the applications.

Bank $25 Swim Suit For instance, the committee rejected a girl's application for a $25 loan to buy a bathing suit, recommending she could swim just as well in a suit that cost $10.

Loans were approved to cover graduation expenses, dues for a school picnic and even a wedding present for a sister bride-to-be—although Patsy did agree that her sister would love her just as much if she received a $10 gift instead of the $40 present Patsy had in mind.

Arrests Teacher To Raise Niece's Marks

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Abraham Krislavim, undersecretary of the interior minister during the Peron regime, had a unique method of raising his niece's marks in school. He ordered her teacher arrested.

This came to light Tuesday when a judge of the new Argentine provisional government ordered Krislavim tried for "illegal privation of freedom." Krislavim is believed to be in Havana now.

The charge against Krislavim said when he learned his niece got a low grade in high school, he summoned her teacher, Felipe Pin Errecaide de Garate, and asked that it be changed. The teacher refused and he ordered her arrest Sept. 16, 1953. A month later he ordered the teacher arrested again. Both times she was held several hours in jail.

PHONY GERMAN REPUBLIC SAYS FREED SENATOR

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Rep. Edward P. Boland (D-Mass.) said Tuesday that his weekend brush with the Communists in East Berlin convinced him of "Soviet predominance over the phony German Democratic Republic."

Boland arrived by plane last night from Frankfurt after he, Rep. Harold C. Ostertag (R-NY) and Mrs. Ostertag had been held by Red German police in East Berlin for four hours.

Boland said the case of his detention now is in the hands of the U. S. Army headquarters at Heidelberg and that he did not intend to bring it before Congress. Maj. Gen. Charles L. Dasher Jr., U. S. commandant in Berlin, is handling a strong protest to the Russians over the incident, which Allied officials considered might signal a move to wipe out special Allied rights in the four-power city's Soviet sector.

Briefed By Officials Ostertag, a member of the House Defense Appropriations Committee, spent Tuesday at Heildersberg, Germany, where he was briefed by officers at U. S. Army European headquarters.

CLAIMS BRITAIN, USSR SEEKING ISRAELI DEATH

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP)—Premier David Ben-Gurion accused Britain and Russia Tuesday of pursuing policies "able to bring about the destruction of the state of Israel."

He claimed in Parliament that arms supplied to Egypt by Britain and Russia "will be used only against Israel."

He said Egypt's goal is "the annihilation of Israel" and added, "Both Britain and the Soviet Union are aware of Col. Nasser's political aims."

Open Mortar Duel An Israeli army spokesman said Tuesday a heavy Israel-Egyptian mortar duel broke out Monday between Egyptian outposts in the Gaza strip and Israeli positions on this side of the border.

FBI Cuffs Robber Of Security Bank

BOSTON (AP)—The FBI has identified a prisoner detained at Suffolk County Jail here as the robber who held up Washington's Security Bank and fled with $1,178 last May 31.

Special Agent E. J. Powers said last night that fingerprints show George Santos, arrested here on Nov. 18 for breaking and entering at night, really is John Gomez Jones, 35, of Steelton, Pa., wanted for the capital bank robbery.

Powers, in charge of the Boston FBI office, said a federal detainer has been filed to hold Jones for the Washington crime.

heavy Israel mortars, he said. The spokesman also claimed Egyptian soldiers penetrated across the border near Kissufim and opened automatic fire at a Israel patrol which replied and forced the Egyptians to retreat.

Another Egyptian position in the Gaza Strip opened fire across the border at an Israel patrol near Nahal Oz, but this fire was not returned, the spokesman said.

Ben-Gurion made his statement in reply to a Communist motion for a foreign affairs debate to protest an interview the premier—who also is Israel's defense minister—gave last week to a correspondent of the London Observer. The Communist motion was defeated.

BILL TO RETAIN ASSEMBLY SEAT OFFERED HOUSE

HARRISBURG (AP)—State legislators would be allowed to serve as city officials under two bills before the Senate.

The bipartisan sponsored measures, introduced Monday night, would amend existing law to permit legislators to serve out their state office terms after being elected members of a city council.

The other bill would permit office holders in third class cities to retain their seats in the General Assembly.

The proposals, sponsored by Sens. Taylor (R-Dauphin) and Dent (D-Westmoreland), would assure continued state service for four representatives elected to city posts at the Nov. 8 election.

They are Reps. Kubachi (D-Berks), elected councilman in Reading; Yetzer (D-Berks), elected Berks County sheriff; Hamilton (R-Phila), elected councilman in the Quaker City; and Ziegler (R-Dauphin), elected mayor of Harrisburg.
